County Medical Care Plan Passes Its 18-Month Mark

Its Operation Has Amounted To $19,515.73

Pettis County's plan for providing medical care of the indigent—the only plan of its kind in the nation—has been in successful operation for more than 18 months and has amounted to a $19,515.73 operation.

The plan, originated in Jan. 1955, is carried out with the cooperation of five agencies, the Pettis County Court, the Pettis County Medical Society, the Bothwell Memorial Hospital management, the Sedalia druggists, and the Pettis County Division of Welfare.

The number of persons given hospitalization under the plan totaled 246. According to information available, no one has been turned down at the hospital for lack of funds. Persons given medical treatment totaled 291.

The plan operates through the local office of the State Division of Welfare, with Miss Roseanne Dugan, welfare director for Pettis County, donating her time to handle the administrative work.

When it is found that a person needs hospitalization, the name is given to Miss Dugan for a check on the person's financial status. If it is an emergency case, the hospital admits the patient immediately and the investigation follows. The county court assumes the cost until a report is given to it.

The Pettis County Medical Society, of which Dr. Pete Siegel is president, cooperates with the plan in providing medical care. Dr. Karl B. Gonser, appointed by the county court as county physician, has given medical service to 291 persons under the plan, in addition to care of the Buena Vista Home and treatment of county jail inmates. Dr. Gonser is paid by the court on a fee basis. Medical fees for the last 18 months totaled $4,417.75.

Three of Sedalia's leading drug stores furnish medicine to indigent persons as certified to them by the Welfare Department at a cost-plus-five-percent basis. Stores that cooperate in the program are the Sedalia Drug Co., the W. E. Bard Drug Co. and the Hurtt Pharmacy.

The total cost of medicines prescribed for the indigent during the first 18 months was $1,857.53. The number of prescriptions written during the plan's operation was 899. The cost of orthopedic appliances furnished was $171.28. Other miscellaneous services provided totaled $192.36.

Pettis TB Group Sponsors Chest X-Rays

The Pettis County Chapter of the Missouri Tuberculosis Association is sponsoring a mass chest X-ray. The Missouri Department of Public Health and Welfare will bring its mobile X-ray units to Sedalia and Pettis County for a period of 19 or 20 days the last part of September. The exact dates and location of units will be announced later. The chest X-ray is free to all citizens in Pettis County over 15 years of age.

Representatives of the Department of Public Health and Welfare of Jefferson City, have been in Sedalia making plans with the Pettis County TB Association for the county-wide X-ray campaign.

The following committee chairmen have been named: general, Herbert Seifert, co-chairman, Jack Crawford; county co-chairman, C. F. Scotten; location, Green Ridge, Mrs. Loy Smith; LaMonte, Alfred Brown; Smithton, Paul S. McKee; Hughesville, Paul J. Van Natta; Houstonia, James L. Top Command Changes---

Neil, Robb Are Given WAFB Advancement

Col. A. J. Beck, commander of the 340th Bombardment Wing at Whiteman Air Force Base, this week announced top command changes which assigned Col. Charles V. Neil, as the deputy wing commander of the 340th Bombardment Wing, and Lt. Col. Harry W. Robb as base commander.

Col. Neil, base commander at Whiteman for the past 17 months, succeeds Col. Richard C. Neeley who departed Whiteman last week on an extended six-month temporary duty assignment.

Col. Neil came to Whiteman from Okinawa where he flew a Korean combat tour as the commander of the 372nd Bomb Squadron of the 307th Bombardment Wing.

Lt. Col. Robb flew 350 combat hours in World War II and the Korean conflict and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with six clusters, the French Croix de Guerre, and numerous other decorations.

Other changes included a new provost marshal and motor vehicle squadron commander.

Lt. Col. Lawrence R. Jordon, 340th Wing inspector, assumed the duties of the Whiteman Air Force Base's provost marshal, and Maj. Marshall P. Featherston, former provost marshal moved over to the motor vehicle squadron commander's slot recently vacated by Maj. Claude Carpenter, who went to the 7th Air Division overseas.

Mediation Bid by Iraq Rumored

Arab Union Leaders Threaten to Blow Up Western Military, Oil Installations

CAIRO, Aug. 11 (AP)—An offer by Iraq to mediate the Suez Canal crisis was reported today as Arab union leaders threatened to blow up Western oil and military installations in the Middle East should a shooting war start.

At the same time, Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser declared his great objective was not simply to take over the canal but "to arouse Arab nationalism."

Nasser's Sunday news conference—at which he is expected to disclose whether Egypt will accept or reject an invitation to attend the 24-nation conference on the Suez in London Aug. 16 — was postponed from noon to 4 p.m. (10 a.m. EST). The President also is scheduled to broadcast to the nation at 6 p.m. (noon EST).

Lebanese Minister of State Saeb Salam flew into Cairo today, delivered a message to Masser from Lebanese President Camille Chamoun and urged "peaceful negotiations" to settle the Suez issue.

The contents of Chamoun's message were not disclosed, but reports from Beirut said Iraq is offering to mediate between Egypt and Britain. Iraq is the only Arab country in the Baghdad Pact, a pro-Western defense system which includes Britain, Turkey, Iran and Pakistan.

In London, a British Foreign Office spokesman said "I know of nothing special going on at the moment." He had no specific comment on the reported Iraqi offer to mediate.

The executive committee of the Federation of Arab Trade Unions, now meeting in Cairo, decided to call on its followers to blow up oil works and destroy Western military installations in Arab territory if Britain and France attack Egypt.

The committee also urged an Arab boycott of all ships and aircraft belonging to any country which attacks Egypt or supports such an attack and called for a general strike Aug. 16, the day the London conference on the Suez opens. The committee claims to represent workers in Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon and Libya.

First Checks to Soil Bank Participants Due Soon After Labor Day

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11—(AP)—An agriculture department official said today the first checks to farmers participating in the 1956 soil bank program may go out shortly after Labor Day.

The department is preparing to distribute within a few days detailed instructions on how to compute payments to farmers who voluntarily curtail surplus production under the program.

Charles M. Cox of the department's commodity stabilization service said it would "not be unreasonable" to expect the first checks to reach some farmers soon after Labor Day.

The department already has announced that farmers have agreed to take enough crop land out of production this year to earn soil bank payments totaling $224,414,000.

Never Returned From Fishing---

Visitor of Longwood Friends Is Missing; Search Goes On

George Morgan, 76, 1651 Jefferson, Kansas City, has been reported to Sheriff John F. Taylor as missing from the home of Carl Davis, near Longwood since 2 p.m. Friday. A later night search was made Friday, and another search of the farm area was made Saturday for him without success.

According to the report, Morgan came to Pettis County several days ago for a visit with the Davis family, a custom he has followed for several years.

Friday he talked with Davis about going fishing at a pond on the farm. He said, "There are some fish there and I'm going to catch them," according to a report from the sheriff's office. He picked up some fishing lines and went to the pond about 2 o'clock.

When he failed to return to the house about 6 o'clock, they looked for him and were unable to locate any trace of Morgan. The sheriff was notified and Deputies Ed George and George Brown went to the farm and with about ten neighbors made a search, looking the area over until well after midnight Friday.

Saturday morninig another group and the two deputies made another search up until midnight, to no avail. The pond was checked thoroughly and nothing was found.

Officers late Saturday were checking on a report that relatives in Kansas City said he had gone to Junction City, Kan., for a visit. However, Morgan, if he did leave, failed to take with him his suitcase and personal belongings, as they are still at the Davis farm.

Open to Public Again Today---

New Wesleyan Methodist Church Has 'Open House' Friday Night

Friday evening more than 700 people saw the new Wesleyan Methodist Church when the congregation held "open house" from 7 to 10 o'clock. The crowd would have been larger if the lights in that section of the town had not been off for about 35 minutes, but there will be another opportunity to go through the church this afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock.

The first worship services will be held this morning, one at 8:30 and one at 10:45 and will be identical services.

It was on May 16, 1954, that the ground was broken for the new building and it's with great pride that the congregation of 875 members, especially those who have been closest to the planning and building, look upon it now as it is completed and ready for occupacy.

After so many years in the inadequate building which the congregation called the Fifth Street Methodist Church, it seems strange but wonderful to be in the new building at Broadway and Carr with its spacious sanctuary, its chapel, its parlor, its fellowship room and kitchen and a separate classroom for each class.

The sanctuary pews, the console and organ, the pulpit and communion table and the communion rail around the chancel are all of oak with pecan finish. The panelling at the front is of redwood in the center of which is the docile curtain of red velvet. The side walls of the chancel are of blue. In front of the docile curtain is the communion table and on either side are seats for the choir. The organ is on the southeast side of the chancel and the console is in a section of the wall about five by five feet.

The communion table will have a replica of the Lord's Supper molded and lighted on the side but this had not arrived in time for the open house.

The walls of the sanctuary are of pink brick and the beams are of the same wood as the paneling at the front.

The beautiful light fixtures that hang from the ceiling may be dimmed and the inset ceiling lights turned to different degrees of light, giving unusual effects.

On the lectern is carved the symbol of the World Council of Churches, the oikoumene which is the Greek word meaning ecumenical or universal, and the dove indicating the Holy spirit.

The sanctuary seats 256 people and the balcony 80 persons. There is room for 30 to be seated in the choir. An overflow in the church may be taken care of by opening the parlor, which has sliding doors and will make space for 70 people. The back of the sanctuary has glass panels through which the chancel may be seen from the parlor.

The public address system is arranged so that the speaking may be heard as well in the parlor, or in the chapel, which seats 45, and even in the fellowship room in the basement which seats 300, as in the sanctuary, or it may be shut off in any of the rooms.

The chapel is one of the prettiest places in the church with its mahogany pews, its panels of stained glass separated by wide, deep panels of cherry wood. This is a memorial to the Fifth Street Methodist Church, which for so many years the congregation occupied, and in its chancel are the chairs, the communion bench and the pulpit of cherry wood brought from the old church.

The classrooms are fitted for the Woman Hurt As Car, Truck Hit Saturday

Automobile Crashes Into Rear of Truck On South Hiway 65

One car was heavily damaged in a collision injuring one woman and involving a car and a truck 3½ miles south of Sedalia on Highway 65 about 9:15 a.m. Saturday. The accident occurred during one of the light showers, the highway being wet. Involved were a 1951 Ford two-door sedan driven by Clarence Blunt, Kansas City, and a 1951 Chevrolet truck driven by Leroy J. Pritzel, Cole Camp, and owned by Edgar Witte, Stover.

Blunt's wife, Virginia, was taken to Bothwell Hospital after the accident, where she was treated by Dr. Gordon Stauffacher. She suffered a bruise over the left eye, slight cuts on both knees, and her chest was bruised on the right side. She was taken to Bothwell Hospital in the McLaughlin ambulance, where Dr. C. Gordon Stauffacher rendered medical treatment.

The accident occurred as Pritzel, headed north on 65, saw two cars coming and gave an arm signal to stop near the crossroad located by the Meyer Junk Yard. Blunt related that he saw the truck but did not know that he was stopped. He also stated that he slammed on his brakes when he saw the truck was getting closer. The truck, driven by Pritzel, was stopped at the time it was rammed by the Blunt car.

The front portion of the car driven by Blunt was heavily damaged, the grill, radiator, hood and headlights being smashed. The truck was damaged only on the rear, the bed being bent somewhat and the taillight being knocked out. Both vehicles remained on their side of the roadway.

The truck was driven to the Meyer Junk Yard to get it off the highway and the car was pushed off onto a side road.

Sgt. Ernest Van Winkle made the investigation of the accident at the scene.

Board of Appeals Will Convene Monday

The Pettis County board of appeals will convene Monday for a three-day session. Appeals of tax adjustments made by the board of equalization will be heard during this time.

Members of the board are County Court Judges Frank Monroe, E. L. Birdsong and Ed Callis; Mayor Julian Bagby; County Assessor Jerry Trotter, City Assessor John Blue and County Surveyor Keith Ekstrom. County Clerk Jim Green will act as clerk of the board.

Two Sedalians Among 114 New Mo. Lawyers

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 11 (AP)—There are 114 new lawyers in Missouri today successful in the June bar examinations. Twenty-four others failed to pass the examinations.

Chief Justice C. A. Leedy, Jr., of the Supreme Court said the list was released two weeks early because many of those examined are being called up for military service.

The new lawyers included Leo Eickhoff, Jr., 705 West Fifth, and Jack P. Steinle, 820 West Seventh.

Wreck Injures Four Persons North of City

Headon Collision Occurs Saturday On Georgetown Road

A headon collision of two motor cars on a curve on the Georgetown-Hughesville road about 9 a.m. Saturday sent four persons to the Bothwell Hospital. The injured were painfully but not seriously injured.

Mrs. Shirley E. Schroeder, 19, Hughesville, suffered extensive cuts of the nose which took six stitches to close, small cut on her forehead, fractured thumb on the right hand, and bruises.

Edward Schroeder, 22, husband of Mrs. Schroeder, was the driver of one car. He suffered a cut on the right leg below the knee which took several stitches to close.

Miss Ann Schroeder, 18, sister of the driver, suffered an abrasion on her forehead.

Robert W. Overy, 22, of 1506 South Moniteau, driver of the second car was the most seriously injured of the group. Overy suffered a fracture of the sixth vertebra, fracture of the first and second ribs on the left side, and cuts of the face.

They were treated at the hospital by Dr. Pete Siegel.

The Schroeders were taken to the hospital by C. C. Crain, who resides a short distance north of the accident, while Overy was taken to the hospital in the Ewing ambulance.

Trooper Richard Joos, of the State Highway Patrol, investigated the wreck. According to his report, Schroeder was headed toward Sedalia and Overy was driving north on the narrow blacktop road. The accident occurred on a blind curve just south of Muddy Creek bridge.

The two cars crashed head on doing extensive damage to both vehicles, the Schroeder car, a 1955 Mercury tudor sedan and the Overy car, a 1954 Plymouth sedan. The Mercury was towed to the Hamlin Service station and the Plymouth to Parks Cities Service station.

Parade, Drills and Dinner---

Shriners Have Jurisdictional Ceremonial Here on Saturday

The jurisdictional ceremonial of Ararat Shrine started Saturday afternoon with a big parade of many drill teams in uniforms of brilliant color combinations, bands which included the Oriental band in its flowing costumes, the chanters, the drum corps motor corps and the mounted guards.

During the entire parade there were drills of various kinds, the two beautiful white horses of the mounted guards danced as they led the guards. There were the black men of the harem with their clubs, the Shriner who walked along cuddling his pet skunk, the baby carriage with one of the men dressed as an infant, and many marching Shriners from every town in the district.

The Illustratious Potentate, Roy P. Swanson, rode in the lead car followed by Shriners in other convertibles.

There were 350 Shriners here from Kansas City and 30 candidates from Sedalia, Clinton, Windsor, Warrensburg, Carrollton, Richmond, Marshall, Lee's Summit and Boonville. The candidates were being pulled along in the parade by a rope attached to a car.

The parade was witnessed by a large crowd many of whom stayed to watch the spectacular drills put on by several of the different units.

The candidates were taken over the burning sands at the Smith-Cotton High School after the parade and the big ceremonial ended with a feast at the Smith-Cotton cafeteria at 6:30 Saturday evening.

The potentate addressed the candidates and told them of the meaning of the Shrine into which they had just been initiated.

Surprise Comes When He Ignores Adlai Altogether

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—Scrappy Harry S. Truman, the Democratic party's old champ, went all out for Averell Harriman today as the best man for president in these times of "mounting crisis in the world."

In a strategem that could throw next week's Democratic National Convention into uproarious, harmony-shattering battle, the former President gave his unqualified blessing to the New York governor.

The reaction of Adlai E. Stevenson—still the man to beat for the nomination:

"I expect to be the Democratic candidate."

Truman, reading his statement to the press and to the nation via TV and radio, did not even mention Stevenson, though he did perhaps include him in the remark that the party has "many qualified men to choose from."

But in the next breath he aimed what looked like a triple thrust at Stevenson, the pacesetter candidate:

1. He implied that Stevenson is a neophyte who might have to be educated to the presidency when perilous times call out for experience. The convention, he said, must pick a man with experience and ability to act as president "immediately upon assuming office without risking a period of costly and dangerous trial and error."

2. He scoffed at bandwagons—Stevenson's admirers are trying to start one here.

3. And he belittled polls as unreliable. The polls show Stevenson ahead in the tussle for the presidential nomination.

The best Truman could do for Stevenson, and that only indirectly, was to say he knew there were several Democrats who could "wage successful campaigns with much credit to the party and the nation and they are men for whom I have great admiration."

But Harriman, he said, has had long experience in top government positions, he will "make a fighting and successful candidate," and in the light of his own experience as president he believes Harriman is "the man best qualified to be the next president of the United States."

Truman's dramatic announcement, made to a news conference that overflowed a hotel ballroom, and its adjacent stairways, was unexpected only to the degree that it spoke up for Harriman and ignored Stevenson.

The Stevenson people had thought the former President at least would say that if the National Convention prefers to entrust the nomination to Stevenson as it did in 1952, he would accept the decision and support the former Illinois governor once more.

Studer Is Given Reorganization Job in Capital

Herb Studer, 906 South Barrett, who for the past three years has been director of the Kansas City office of the Federal Housing Administration, has been selected by the administration to go to Washington, D. C., for the purpose of reorganizing Region 2 of the FHA which includes the states of Maryland, Pennsylvania, New York, Virginia, West Virginia and New Jersey, with 22 offices in those states. His headquarters will be in Washington.

Studer will continue to direct the Kansas City office and during the four- to six-month period it will take for the reorganization he will make trips back and forth from Washington to Kansas City.

The Kansas City office, which at one time ranked 36th in the volume of business in the nation, now ranks fourth.

Studer left Saturday morning for Washington to assume his new duties.

All-School Summer Band Will Present Concert at the Park

The All-School Summer Band will present a concert at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the band shell at Liberty Park, under the direction of Mrs. Carl Schrader and Bob Cummings.

This concert, in which 60 youngsters from all the public schools in Sedalia will participate, will close the summer music program.

A special number will be by the clarinet trio composed of Kay Carraway, Jim Allcorn and Leland Payton. The high school twirlers will also perform during one of the numbers.

Salt, Soda Is Emergency Burn Help

WASHINGTON, D. C. — (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service said today tests have shown that a salt and soda solution given by mouth in large amounts is an effective emergency treatment for shock due to burns.

The treatment would be an emergency substitute for the traditional treatment for burn shock — injection into the veins of whole blood, plasma or certain plasma substitutes.

The service said shock is responsible for a high proportion of early deaths among victims of burns covering 10 per cent or more of the body.

It noted that the new treatment, because of its simplicity in comparison with giving injections, "is regarded as being of particular importance in event of a major disaster," and it added:

"The ease with which the saline solution is prepared of materials available in almost every home—table salt, baking soda and tap water — also indicates that the new method may be of great aid in saving lives in those areas where skilled medical care is not promptly available, or where supplies of blood plasma, or other colloids cannot be obtained."

The health service said the solution used during tests might be approximated by dissolving a teaspoonful of table salt and half a teaspoonful of baking soda in a quart of drinking water.

"A burned person might require as much as six or seven quarts or more during the first 12 hours following injury," the service said, but cautioned:

"It is important however, to remember that liquids should not be given to persons who are unconscious or who cannot swallow."

Vacation Fun

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — If an oak ridge worker hadn't had such a good time earlier in the summer, he'd have had a better time on his vacation.

He was fined $10 for drunken driving and sentenced to 10 days in jail — the sentence to be served during his vacation.

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Why people who used to buy higher priced cars are changing to Chevrolet

Sales and official registration figures show that the higher priced cars are losing more and more buyers to Chevrolet. And it isn't just because a Chevrolet costs less, either!

If you buy a higher priced car instead of a Chevrolet, what do you get in return for those extra hundreds of dollars?

More room? No, because the difference in room is usually measured in fractions of inches—often in Chevrolet's favor!

Better roadability? Not with Chevrolet's wedded-to-the-road stability and sure-footed cornering ability. Better performance? Well, Tom McCahill, automotive expert for Mechanix Illustrated, called Chevrolet "the greatest performance buy ever offered at any time in America!"

Smarter styling? A matter of opinion, of course. But Chevrolet shares Fisher Body styling with some of the most expensive cars.

So it comes down to this. More and more buyers are deciding they'd rather drive a frisky, sweet-handling Chevrolet even if it didn't cost less! Wouldn't you?

Florida Landscape Shot Up By Muzzle Loading Addicts

OLD TIME RIFLES—Members of the Palmetto Muzzle Loading Gun Club fire away with old time rifles during one of their firing matches.

By BOB CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—When civilization jostles too close, some outwardly-sedate Miamians react just as Daniel Boone did. They grab their muzzle-loading rifles and head west.

Boone trod "the dark and bloody ground" of Kentucky, shooting his way through Indian ambuscades. Palmetto Muzzle - Loading Gun Club members see Indians too—Seminoles who operate souvenir stands on the road to a rifle range 18 miles from Miami.

Long, deadly frontier rifles and creaky Cvil War muskets slam round balls or howling Minie slugs down the range. Oldtime black-powder smoke swirls around the firing line. So does its pungent, sulphurous reek.

"We like it," says club founder-secretary James E. Auld.

To their monthly shoots at the Dade County Trail Glades range, the Palmetto gun bugs bring not only weapons but kits of equally fantastic accessories which include mattress-ticking and straight razors.

Use of the gadgets was explained and shown by W. D. Fuller, an electric utilities executive, between leisurely shots with his French flintlock boarding pistol and a German percussion target rifle.

His quaintly scrolled powder flask, Fuller said, dumps a measured charge down the gun-barrel. A mallet and punch start a ball down a tight-fitting bore. The bullet slides down on a greased patch of mattress-ticking or linen. The razor's use? It trims excess cloth from the patch.

"It takes an old straight razor to do the job right," Fuller said. Completing his preparations he placed a percussion cap on the rifle's nipple and squinted through ingenious sights. Wham! A hole, half an inch across, appeared in the center of a paper target 50 yards down-range.

"People call these 'Kentucky' rifles," said Welton D. Modisette. "Almost all of them were built in Pennsylvania, actually. They won their fame in the hands of Kentucky wilderness pioneers."

Almost to a man (or woman), muzzle-loading fans "run" their own lead bullets in resurrected or newly-made moulds. That's part of the sport's do-it-yourself appeal, along with experiments to find the powder charge, patching material, sight rig and target-hold that will get the most accuracy out of "Old Betsy." E. I. du Pont de Nemours Co., America's oldest and largest munitions firm, still turns out old-fashioned black powder in colorful canisters to supply the front-loaders.

Characteristically, the muzzle loaders dote on finding a bona fide antique gun and restoring it to effective service.

Their national association encourages this. Its monthly magazine, Muzzle Blasts, bristles with the ads of members eager to swap guns and craftsmen who cater to their needs. The NMLRA, however, cautions members never to neglect proof-testing strange old guns at a safe distance before cuddling fondly up to something that might explode in their face.

Daniel Boone, members are reminded, took pans to obtain sound shooting-irons and always kept them in tiptop condition.

Eugene Toepfer Given Scholarship to MU

DREAMING ABOUT THE MOON—Milton C. Wagner sits dreaming about a new gimmck to bring in customers to his Detroit amusement park.

DETROIT (AP) — A trip to the moon? That might do it—and then again it might not.

That is the perplexing problem facing Milton C. Wagner, managing director of 20 acres of ingenious man-made amusement park gimmicks.

A trip to the moon, if it was hovering over his park, might bring in the crowds. As Wagner says, "A moon might do it. The only trouble is that by the time we could get it, that sort of thing might be old hat."

What do teen-agers want? Wagner isn't sure, but he believes TV and automobiles are competing strongly for the average teenager's time. Prosperity has given them much more spending money, and they seek different and more expensive thrills.

"The youngsters are livelier today," said Wagnre. "Holding hands on a moonlight ride on the ferris wheel appeals to a few. But too many others get a greater thrill holding hands at a jam session."

The American Bible Society distributed 35,40,770 volumes of scripture in Latin America in 1955.

New Suntan Oil May Spray Easily for Groomed Look

BEACH BEAUTY — New suntan oil may be sprayed on, avoiding stickiness, preserving the well-groomed look.

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

It's a good idea to use a suntan product that is for your own type. Blondes like a honey tan, a gentle shade. Brunettes may choose a squaw or coppery brown tone in lotion or cream to coat their epidermis.

Then convenience should be considered. If oily lotion is preferred, you'll be pleased to note these are now available in aerosol cans — no more messy hands, stains on clothes or perfumed picnic fare. Your hands will stay clean so that sand and grass will not cling to them.

Non-oily lotions still are available for those who like a carefree tan. A tanning foam that is sprayed from a can offers an added ingredient that smooths normally dry skin. There is a greaseless tanning cream that contains body lotion treatment also.

There are sun-proofing products too for those who can't take any sun — sensitive or allergic types need to choose it if they'd block out ultra-violet rays .It is greaseless and odorless.

One new liquid burn-aid is said to be the first healing, antiseptic liquid that sprays away sunburn pain, so you do not need to touch sunburned areas.

The important point about sun concoctions is that you should not be too eager to get your tan even though you wear sun protection. Give yourself time and plan your exposures so that you build up your tan gradually. If your skin starts to peel in the middle of your vacation because you've charred the outer layer of skin, it will defeat your entire beauty aim for summer. After the peeled skin is fluffed off, it will take awhile to build up a nice smooth tan again. By that time the summer may be over and you will not have gained much by trying to rush things along.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Kenneth Leslie

Mrs. Kenneth Leslie, 904 South Quincy, died at the Bothwell Hospital at 3 a.m. Saturday. She was born at Fulton, Feb. 11, 1918, daughter of the late Thomas and Ethyl Nixson. The family moved to Sedalia from Jefferson City in 1934 where she finished her education and was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School. She was married May 25, 1942, to Kenneth Leslie, who survives. They made their home in Sedalia, where she was a member of the First Christian Church.

Other survivors are: three children, Tom, 13, Russell, 10, and Laurie Shannon, 4; and two sisters, Mrs. Roy B. Hill, Kansas City, and Mrs. Fred O. Wickham, Jefferson City. One brother, Russell Nixson, lost his life while in the Navy during World War II.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at McLaughlin's Funeral Chapel, with the Rev. Milton Fronsoe, pastor of the East Broadway Christian Church, officiating. Mrs. H. O. Foraker will play organ music.

Pallbearers will be Harold Fricke, Herman Logan, Tom Dickman, Harold Vogel, William Atkinson, and Kenneth Dick.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery.

Ernest Holtzen

Ernest Holtzen, 92, a former Sedalian, died in a Topeka hospital Aug. 9 after a lengthy illness. He was born in Cole Camp July 20, 1864, and came to Sedalia in the 1880's, where resided for 50 years at 1220 West Fourth. He was in business at 118 West Second for 30 years. He was married in 1895, his wife preceding him in death in 1939, and left Sedalia in 1948 to make his home with a daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs. George Connelly, Topeka. He was a former member of Sacred Heart Church and the Holy Name Society of the same church.

Survivors include: two daughters, Mrs. George Connelly, Topeka, Kan., and Mrs. J. J. Murren, Austin, Tex.; one brother, Fred Holtzen, Independnece, Mo.; a sister, Mrs. Lena Fajen, Rich Hill; three granddaughters, Mrs. R. H. Atkins, Santa Rosa, Calif., Mrs. Claude Lambirth, Sedalia, and Miss Barbara Tuck, Austin, Tex.; five great-grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a.m. Monday at Sacred Heart, with the Rev. A. J. Brunswick officiating. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Pallbearers will be Leon Archias, Fred Brink, Claude Boul, Arthur Hoffman, Undrill Renshaw and S. J. Timborious.

Friends and members of the Holy Name Society will recite the Rosary at 8 p.m. Sunday at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel.

Mrs. Cecil Wright

Funeral services for Mrs. Cecil Wright, 70, who died Thursday morning at the Bothwell Hospital, will be at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the Gillespie Funeral Home. The Rev. Charles Tucker, pastor of the Flat Creek Baptist Church, will officiate.

Russell C. Maag, staff soloist, will sing "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Del Heckart.

Pallbearers will be Curtis Lopp, Truman Barton, William Anderson, George Anderson, Emmett Bohon, Jr., and John Neitzert.

Burial will be in Flat Creek Baptist Church Cemetery.

The body is at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

The body will arrive in Smithton Sunday when it will be taken to the Neumeyer Funeral Home.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Burial will be in the Smithton Cemetery.

Capt. David H. Henderson

The body of Capt. David Howard Henderson, 34, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Henderson, 1508 South Moniteau, whose T-33 jet training plane was reported missing on Nov. 13, 1955, in a snow storm in California, has been found. The plane wreckage was spotted July 25 about 21 miles north of Lake Tahoe, California, and six miles north of the Donner Summit radio beacon, and the body and plane recovered several days later by the Air Force from McClellan AFB, California.

Funeral services are to be held at 1 p.m. Monday at Arlington National Cemetery, Washington, D.C., according to word received by Mr. and Mrs. Henderson Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henderson will be unable to attend the services, Mrs. Henderson being under the care of a doctor. Capt. Henderson's wife, Mrs. Leona Henderson, and his sister, Mrs. Karl Weinmann, the latter of Reseda, Calif., who flew to Washington, will attend.

The services are being held just nine months to the day after his crash.

Capt. Henderson is survived by his wife, Leona, who has been residing in Albuquerque, N.M., with her parents since last winter, his 18-month-old son, David Howard Henderson, Jr., his parents here in Sedalia, his sister, Mrs. Weinmann, and a brother, Glenn R. Henderson, 1721 West Third.

It was on a Sunday night, Nov. 13, when Capt. Henderson was flying his plane from the San Fernando Valley AFB to the McClellan AFB, when the tragedy occurred. He had flown to California on the Thursday before from Craig AFB, Ala., and made a stop at the Whiteman AFB and spent the night with his parents here. He was accompanied by Lt. Col. George R. Smith, whom he left at McClellan on the flight before continuing to the San Fernando AFB, from which he went to visit over the weekend with his sister at Reseda.

On the flight to McClellan he ran into a storm. He made one pass at McClellan and was contacted to make another "pass" and try and land by radar, being instructed to get on the McClellan radio beam. It was believed that as he was attempting to make the radio contact, he went in on the Donner Summit beam.

According to a message received by Mr. and Mrs. Henderson from Col. Harry J. Hawkins, the lost plane was spotted on Wednesday, July 25.

Other information received by his parents was to the effect that Capt. Henderson must have been traveling at a speed estimated at 450 miles per hour when flying low and the left wing of the plane struck a tree. He was apparently killed instantly as he was still in the cockpit of the plane when Air Force rescue workers reached it.

At the time he was declared missing it was said that if he was forced down in the mountain area, it might be July or August before he was found because of the snow.

It was reported in November that Capt. Henderson was picked up on radar for a time but was lost from the radar shortly after he reported by radio he had about an hour and 40 minutes of fuel left. When the flying time ran out and no further radio contact could be made with him, searching parties were started, but were handicapped by the snow storm.

Capt. Henderson was born and reared in Sedalia. He entered the service during World War II.

He was born in Sedalia on Sept. 8, 1921, the son of J. R. Henderson and the late Mrs. Mollie Enlow Henderson. His mother preceded him in death in 1948.

Capt. Henderson attended the public schools of Sedalia and graduated from Smith-Cotton High School. He was attending the Central Business College when the 128th Field Artillery, Missouri National Guards, were called into federal service in 1940, and as a member of the Guards he left at that time.

Shortly after war was declared and the Guards were split into cadre units, he transferred from the artillery and entered the Air Force. He remained in the service until his death.

He was married Feb. 28, 1954, to Leona Hurst at Dallas, Tex.

Capt. Henderson was a member of the Fifth Street Methodist Church.

Thomas M. Wilson

Thomas Mayo Wilson, 30, 1615 West Third, died at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Wadsworth, Kan., at 4:55 p.m. Saturday.

Mr. Wilson was born at Mayfield, Ky., Sept. 20, 1926, the son of William D. and Vivian Mayo Wilson.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. Wilson was a veteran of World War II, in which he served in the Marine Corps, and was a member of the C.A.P.

He was engaged in business at Wilson's Clothing Co., Sedalia.

Besides his wife, Mrs. Sue McKindree Wilson, he is survived by two sons, William D. Wilson III and Jeffery Wilson; one daughter, Caroline Wilson; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson; one brother, William D. Wilson, Jr.; and one sister, Mrs. Paul Payne, Mayfield, Ky.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Mrs. Maxine Beaver

Mrs. Maxine Beaver, Phoenix, Ariz., died Thursday, July 31, in a Phoenix hospital.

She is survived by a brother, Wayne Davis, Houstonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis had gone to Phoenix to live with Mrs. Beaver the past few months.

Funeral services and burial were in Phoenix.

needs of each class and each room is painted one of the pastel colors of rose, blue green or beige.

There is a place for playing as well as praying in the church which appeals especially to the young people. The floor is made for shuffleboard and there will be game tables added.

This fellowship room which is located in the basement and apart from the church proper, is about 56 by 35 feet, and between this is a sliding door which opens into another room adding 24 feet. Banquets will be served here accommodating about 300 persons and the first banquet will be served to the congregation Wednesday night. Smaller parties may be held in the room that opens off the fellowship room. The kitchen in aqua and coral is very large and has a stove and a half, three double stainless steel sinks and a refrigerator, also of aqua.

The large stage at the front of the fellowship room is for the presentation of programs and plays.

The parlor upstairs, also, may be used by groups for small parties and it, too, has a refrigerator, stove and sink.

The console in the chancel is of the latest type and the music may be broadcast over the church, and there are four loudspeakers in the tower for the chimes.

Those who planned the church seemed to think of everybody from the tiniest tots that the mother might leave while she attends services, they have miniature toilet facilities. In this room, too, are wee bunk beds, six of them for the babies. For the oldest they remembered that steps are hard to climb and made the entrance to the church with only one wide step and no other steps to the sanctuary.

The church cost $275,000 and the congregation now owes only about $70,000 and they still have their old church to be sold which will go on the payment on this new one.

The Rev. Lee F. Soxman is pastor of the church and with him in the receiving line Friday night were his wife, the Rev. R. M. Lehew, district superintendent of the Methodist Churches, Mrs. Lehew, and members of the board and their wives.

Punch and cookies were served during the evening by women of the church from a table covered with a lace cloth and centered with a large arrangement of roses in shades of pink in a cut glass bowl. On either side of the centerpiece were green tapers in three-branch crystal holders.

Fires

The fire companies at 7:53 a.m. Saturday were called to the residence of Al Gloss, 1914 West Fifth, where lightning had struck the television aerial. Slight damage resulted.

Accidents

It wasn't "smoke in your eyes" but actually "ashes in his eyes" that caused an 11-minute delay of Missouri Pacific passenger train No. 10 at 2:10 a.m. Friday. A man was driving his truck across the railroad crossing at Mill avenue, when the ashes from his cigarette blinded him and the truck left the roadway and straddled the "main line."

A call was made for Hamlin's wrecker which arrived quickly, pulled the truck from the tracks and right-of-way. The eastbound passenger then continued its eastward trip.

Two cars were involved in a collision at the intersection of Third and Grand about 5:40 p.m. Friday afternoon. No injuries resulted.

The accident involved a 1953 Plymouth driven by Floyd Eugene Cureton, 519 North New York, and a 1953 Chevrolet driven by Floyd Dennis Evans, 1835 South Warren.

The Plymouth was damaged on the rear bumper and fender and the Chevrolet received damage to the front bumper.

Two vehicles were involved in an accident at Garst's Drive-In about 7 p.m. Saturday. No injuries resulted.

Involved was a 1947 Jeep station wagon driven by Miss Willetta Eileen Van Arsdale, Route 1, Mora, and a 1952 Ford driven by Jacob Paris Ramey, Florence.

The station wagon was not damaged and the Ford received damage to the left rear fender and bumper.

Police Reports

Bill Rodewald, 409 East Seventh, reported to the police that sometime Thursday night his Schwinn racing bicycle was stolen from his front yard.

A large door at the Stevenson Tractor Co., Main and Lamine, was found open by the police at 11:15 o'clock Saturday morning. The owner was notified.

Herbert Ford, 212½ South Lamine, reported to the police a man tried to break into his apartment at 12:50 a.m. Saturday. When he went to the door the man turned and ran. Ford reported he hit him and the man fell down the stairway. He succeeded in eluding both Ford and police who were called.

Police Court

J. M. Sneed, Route 5, charged with improper parking in the city parking lot, Fourth and Lamine, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Charles W. Daniels, Buffalo, charged with running a stop sign at Main and Missouri, forfeited a $5 cash bond.

James E. Land, 1522 East Fourth, charged with speeding 50 miles per hour in a 30-mile zone, forfeited a $20 cash bond. Radar checked.

Merele Steele, 1320 East Fifth, charged with disturbing the peace of Jim Robinson, 1529 West Main, at Les' Tavern, was fined $15. He pleaded not guilty.

John Neil Rose, 1400 East 14th, charged with careless driving at Sixth and Osage, forfeited a $25 cash bond.

Eddie Roberts, 1800 South Brown, charged with parking on a sidewalk at Third and Massachusets, forfeited a $2 cash bond.

George C. Fletcher, 1504 East Fifth, charged with careless driving at Third and Lamine forfeited a $25 cash bond.

Twelve overtime parkers who failed to appear in police court forfeited a $1 cash bond. There were 30 who paid the 25-cent fee.

Roland C. Means, 1706 South Marvin, charged with careless driving at Sixth and Osage, failed to appear in police court and his $25 cash bond was ordered forfeited.

Local Salesmen Go To Meet in Joplin

On Friday, Aug. 10, four local Cargill seed corn salesmen took part in one of industry's newest and most effective sales meeting techniques: closed-circuit television. A special program was conducted by Cargill for its salesmen, as part of the company's education and research program.

Bill McCune, Oscar Major, Fred Brockman and Ray Shephard and other Cargill representatives in this area met at the Hotel Robindoux in St. Joseph and saw a 90-minute program shown privately to Cargill groups throughout he Midwest. The program, originating in Minneapolis, was sent by special leased TV cable to a network of 12 cities in the Corn Belt.

NEW PLAN TO ELIMINATE FUNERAL BILLS

From years of experience, our firm knows the heavy financial burden often placed on bereaved families.

New Pre-Arrangement Plan Protects the Family

In order to relieve the family of funeral expenses at a time they can least afford them, we recommend a new plan that takes care of these costs before need arises.

This plan provides for a small sum to be paid at convenient intervals to an admitted legal reserve insurer. When need arises, funeral expenses are paid, regardless of how little has been paid. The plan is available to families and individuals from 1 to 80. Any mortuary in the United States or Canada may be designated.

Find out how little it costs to protect your family. Send coupon below for free information about this remarkable plan. No obligation.

GI Loans Get Extension For One Year

The World War II GI loan program ending date has been extended for one more year to July 25, 1958, under an omnibus GI Loan Law signed by the President Aug. 1, according to Keith W. Dancy, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office located at 1828 Walnut in Kansas City.

In the 12 years that the GI loan program has been in operation, 4,466,000 World War II veterans have borrowed $33.2 billion in GI loans to purchase homes, farms and businesses. Of that amount VA has guaranteed or insured $17.9 billion.

The GI loan program previously was scheduled to end July 25, 1957, and, under the working of the original law, all GI loans would have had to be closed by that date.

Under this new law, any GI loan for which VA receives an application by July 25, 1958, may be guaranteed or insured by VA if it is completed by July 25, 1959.

The new law affects only World War II veterans. Korean conflict period veterans have until Jan. 31, 1965, to obtain GI loans for homes, farms and businesses.

To date, more than 345,000 Korean conflict period veterans have borrowed $3.6 billion in GI loans for homes, farms and businesses.

Of that amount, Dancy said, VA has guaranteed or insured $2 billion.

In addition, this new law will permit any veteran who sells residential property purchased with a GI loan to be relieved from liability to the government under certain circumstances.

Previously, the veteran who sold his property and allowed the purchaser to assume his GI loan still remained liable to the government in the event of subsequent foreclosure and the payment of a guaranty claim by the VA.

Now, Dancy said, the veteran may be relieved of liability if the purchaser assumes full liability on the loan, the VA approves him from a credit standpoint, and the loan is current.

The new law also permits World War II veterans to have their GI loan entitlement restored up to Jan. 31, 1965, if their property:

1. Was taken by a governmental agency for public use.
2. Was destroyed by a natural hazard, or
3. Was otherwise disposed of for compelling reasons without fault on the part of the veteran.

The law also amends the GI Bill to permit the restoration of GI home loan entitlement to a veteran in military service who disposes of his home because of a transfer under military orders.

A veteran, under the new law, will have to cetify that he intends to live in the home he is buying with the assistance of a GI loan at the time of application and at the time of closing the loan.

The new law also clarifies and confirms VA's authority to make the final determination of reasonable value of property irrespective of the estimate of value made by an individual appraiser.

Fair Highlights Are Given ABWA Tuesday Evening

Highlights of the Missouri State Fair were given Thursday night at the meeting of the American Business Women's Association held in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel by Mrs. Evelyn Rabourn. Mrs. Rabourn, who is employed this summer at the administration building at the Fairgrounds, also, told of her work.

Miss Margaret Bohon, president, presided over the business meeting, and invocation was given by Miss Emma Kraft.

It was voted by the club to give $25 to the Stephen Bufton Memorial Fund, a fund that was set up as a memorial for the son of H. A. Bufton, Jr., executive director of American Business Women's Association. This is a fund which can be used by any worthy or needy girl who wants to further her education.

At the conclusion of the business meeting several games were played led by Mrs. Rabourn, social chairman.

Community Concerts Get Well-Spaced Dates

The Sedalia Community Concert Association has been fortunate in securing well-spaced dates for the four concerts to be presented during the coming season. Gilbert V. Jones, president, announced that the first concert would be Nov. 17, at which time Saramae Endich, soprano, will be heard. Other dates are Dec. 6, Aldo Parisot, cellist; Feb. 28, the Don Cossack Chorus; and March 21, Whittemore and Lowe, piano team.

Final confirmation of the above dates has been received by the executive committee. Jones also announced the naming of the following committees for the 1956-57 season: concert presentation, I. H. Reed; stage, Pinkney Miller; doors, Russell Maag; ushers, Mrs. James Jolly; publicity, Mrs. William Ward; auditing, Oscar DeWolfe and Mrs. Herbert Mason; historian, Mrs. Henry Salveter; social, Mrs. D. P. Dyer; and membership, Mrs. Ralph Carrel and Mrs. James Jolly.

Same Old Convention—

Democrat Convention Will See Few Marked Changes

By PETER EDSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

It's supposed to be a streamlined affair. But the Democratic National Convention opening here Aug. 13 will still be recognizable as the same old political hot time and hokum.

Presidential and vice-presidential nominating speeches beginning on Thursday are supposed to be cut from the 20-minute limit of four years ago to 10 minutes. Seconding speeches are limited to two for each candidate and none is supposed to last more than two minutes, in place of the former three.

Demonstrations after the nominating of each "man who" are supposed to be limited to 20 minutes. In the good old days, any demonstration that lasted less than an hour was supposed to be a failure, demonstrating that his nominee had no strength of character or future. But it's doubtful if all this monkey business ever changed a vote.

Roll call polling of state delegations is supposed to be barred, unless one-third of the delegation demands, it. And while this vote is being taken inside the state delegation, the convention roll call will proceed to other states, so as not to delay the proceedings.

In past conventions, some local joker was always demanding a poll. Ostensibly it was in defense of his rights. Actually, all it accomplished was to tie up the convention, lens louse up television time and make everybody else mad — all for the sake of giving the character a fleeting bit of fame among the home folks who might be listening in or looking on.

The center aisle on the convention floor has been abolished. That is where all the demonstration traffic jams used to occur. Delegates would stand in the aisle jawing while the chairman vainly pounded his gavel and asked the delegates to please take their seats and come to order.

In the new arrangement there are two wider side aisles. The idea is to keep demonstrations moving in a circle down one of these aisles, across the front, up the other aisle and across the back.

Theater-type seats, with soft backs and cushioned bottoms, have been installed in the hope that if they're more comfortable, the delegates will sit down instead of wandering all over creation.

These seats will be harder to stand on, too. They'll have blue slip covers to match the blue bunting decoration motif. But they do take up more room than the old folding camp chairs. Also, the number of delegates has been raised to 2500 by giving each of them only a half-vote.

This takes up a lot more room on the floor. It crowds the 1850 alternates into the mezannine and leaves that much less space for distinguished visitors — they're all distinguished—and the press. This makes the demand for tickets greater than it ever has been and compounds confusion instead of simplifying or streamlining things.

Half of the 900 press seats at either side of the speaker's rostrum are so far back that reporters assigned to them won't be able to see a thing that happens on the convention floor. As a result they'll be standing on their writing tables most of the time instead of writing on them.

A lot is being made of the new speaker's rostrum with its electric elevator to make small politicians look like big men. But so far nobody has invented anything to make the speakers' ideas any bigger or better able to save the country.

There are 18 scheduled addresses on the program and no telling how many unscheduled ones of the same old style, if you can take them.

Donald Hayes Will Return to Sedalia Soon

Pfc. Donald G. Hayes, 18 months in service in heavy equipment division in Alaska, is returning to the States about Sept. 1. He is a son of Mrs. Catherine Hayes, 531 West 24th and after a visit here will return to duty, having a year to serve or a new assignment.

Public Library Notes—

New Non-Fiction Books Also Include KC A's on Shelves

"The Kansas City Athletics" heads the list of new non-fiction added to the Public Library shelves this week. Ernest Mehl, well-known sports editor of the Kansas City Star, followed closely the developments that led to the transfer of the Philadelphia ball club to his native city, and he has recorded the whole fabulous story in "The Kansas City Athletics."

Another new book for sport lovers is "Best Sports Stories of 1956," which is a thrilling panorama of the sports year. The editors have recaptured the excitement and drama of sports events by collecting 52 of the year's best newspaper and magazine sports articles and 30 spectacular action photographs.

Critics have been universally favorable toward "Hunza" by John Clark, a true story of a lost kingdom of the Himalayas. Clark set up his own anti-Communist occupation of Hunza, a country approximately the size of New Jersey, located just 14 miles from the Russian Communists back door in Central Asia. During his 20-month sojourn there, he treated 5,600 patients in his free medical dispensary, planted high mountain gardens to supplement the country's low food supply, and completed a geologic survey covering approximately 10,000 square miles for the Pakistan government, in return for sanction and support in the continuation of his work. Dr. Clark set out to prove a thesis that great changes can be made from a tiny starting point, and the proof of it is in this story of Hunza.

A memoir of America's best loved actress, for whom Sir James Barrie wrote "Peter Pan," is contained in "Maude Adams, an Intimate Portrait," by Phyllis Robbins. There are intimate glimpses of Miss Adams at home, in the theatre, and at Stephens College in Missouri, where she taught from the age of 65 to 78.

Muscular Dystrophy Will Be Talk Topic

The Pettis County Chapter of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will have a meeting at 8 p.m. at the Boonslick Regional Library, 602 South Ohio, which is open to the public.

J. R. Sheridan, national representative for MDAA will show a film 13½ minutes long entitled "Where the Green Grass Grows." This picture shows the special outdoor camp for entertainment and education of MDAA patients.

Mrs. Lily Thomas, president, will preside.

God Buildeth A Church . . .

Another milestone in the progressive movement among Sedalia churches to improve old and build new physical properties has been reached.

The new Wesley Methodist Church edifice on West Broadway is now functioning for the purpose for which it was long in building—a House of Worship, primarily; yet a structure so designed that it will accommodate the many adult and juvenile pursuits so necessary to church activities these days.

Here is another example of vision and determination of a congregation of 875 to break the bonds of constriction in the Fifth Street church building long outgrown. Many years have passed since the idea of a new building was broached, talked about, planned, put on paper, financed and finally brought to reality.

Not only is the new building architecturally attractive inside and outside, but many phases of utilitarian purposes have been incorporated. The entire building must be gone through to realize this—in the manner provided by the open house Friday night.

When the landscaping has been completed and the parking lot laid then the spacious grounds will be a veritable garden spot on Sedalia's most beautiful street, Broadway, which is also U.S. Highway 50. In such a setting the modern church building becomes an inspiration not only to the home folks but to visitors and tourists.

This structure was not built without much labor and sacrifice of time and money by those responsible for its erection. While many adults will enjoy its comfort and convenience in an atmosphere of sanctity, the real endowment of the mothers and fathers toward making this possible will be to the spiritual needs of the children and grandchildren, the coming generations.

Sedalians generally congratulate the congregation of Wesley Methodist church for this beautiful House of Worship, an affirmative demonstration of what the minds of Sedalia men and women can do as a dedicated group when meeting a challenge.

But we should never forget the Divine source from which came the inspiration to meet that challenge.

Adlai Favors Wide Open Battle For V-P

By DREW PEARSON

CHICAGO—A good many vice-presidents have been picked in smoke-filled rooms in the past, but this one should be an exception.

You can hear all sorts of stories about VP hopefuls who have the nod from Adlai, but the real fact is that Adlai wants a wide-open convention — at least as far as the vice-presidency is concerned. Naturally he figures that it's a closed convention as far as he and the No. 1 spot are concerned.

But a good hot rebel-yell floor fight for the vice-presidency would stir up TV interest in what may otherwise be a dragging political circus. Also, Adlai advisers are not unaware that a hot Democratic battle would be a healthy contrast to Len Hall's cut-and-dried Nixon-is-it strategy at San Francisco.

So if the Democrats can't arouse audience interest in the main ring of the Chicago circus, maybe they can for the VP sideshows.

Adlai has said nice things to all of the top VP contenders—Humphrey, Kefauver, and Kennedy; he has encouraged all three privately and individually, has expressed no preferences.

Here is some of the backstage VP byplay that has been going on in Chicago:

CIO's Walter Reuther has put in a big fat plug with Stevenson for Senator Humphrey. He thinks the rough-and-tumble Minnesotan is the tough campaigner svelte Stevenson needs as a partner. . . . Dorothy Schiff, publisher of the New York Post, talked to Stevenson about Kefauver, said Kefauver could bring him more votes than any other running-mate. "I'm only concerned," said the aloof Adlai, "as to whether he'll make a good vice-president." . . . Stevenson advisers have been greatly impressed with Kefauver's popularity in the midwest where their man is weakest. Jake More, astute Democratic leader from Iowa who organized the midwest Democratic conference, reported there is great apathy toward Adlai in the midwest. Other Democrats said Adlai couldn't carry the midwest despite the farm revolt against Ike, but Kefauver could. . . . Farmers think Adlai is too precise, too "citified."

They want a man in the White House who won't sling one-dollar words, but tractor grease and cow manure. . . . Harriman isn't too popular in the midwest either, but much more so than Stevenson. . . . Senator Kennedy of Massachusetts, say farm delegates, is sure death. He voted with Benson against rigid farm price supports.

Adlai and Harry

For a few days this week, the telephone line between Chicago and Kansas City was busier than between any other two points in the USA. It was kept so by Stevenson people trying to woo and win the potent, sometimes prolific, frequently prolix Harry Truman. The airlines to Kansas City were also busy.

One Adlai emissary who went to Kansas City to woo and win Mr. Truman was his old secretary of the interior, Oscar Chapman. Oscar checked over the lineup of delegates, state by state, with Truman, tried to persuade his old boss there was no chance to stop Stevenson, urged him not to stick his neck out for Averell Harriman.

Truman in part agreed. He said that Adlai had made a good impression on him the last time he talked to him in Chicago, just after Truman returned from Europe.

But, he added, "if there's any way for Averell Harriman to win I'd like to help him."

Stevenson himself also got in touch with the ex-president, obviously worried about his support. Bill Boyle, former Democratic national chairman, also talked to his old chief, urged him not to buck the tide, argued that Stevenson couldn't be stopped.

On the other hand, India Edwards, former vice-chairman of the Democratic national committee, now a great Harriman booster, tried to persuade Mr. Truman to stick with Averell. Harry replied that he "sure preferred" Averell, but was not ready yet to go out for him.

All this, of course, took place before the sprightly, crusty, sometimes cantankerous ex-President of the United States arrives in Chicago. It indicates how much power H.S.T. still wields over the party which promoted him from a lowly Jackson County, Mo., magistrate to the highest office in the land.

Guest Editorial—

HILLCREST SUN-PRESS (Harry Volk, Cleveland Heights, Ohio)—The Cult of Violence. For a long time we wondered whether we were just being old-fashioned in viewing with alarm the steady stream of murders, shootings, knifings, assaults and other assorted violence that floods into the American living rooms from TV sets day after day, night after night.

We fully realize that TV has become the whipping boy for editorial writers and columnists looking for a handy target to blame for the vicious, national brand of juvenile delinquency we have on our fumbling, adult hands today.

We believe that TV is the whipping boy because it well deserves the whipping.

Sir Basil Henriques, one of Britain's top authorities on juvenile delinquency and chairman of the East London Juvenile Court for 33 years, recently visited juvenile courts throughout the United States, including Cleveland's, in an eight-week tour.

In every court he visited he found juvenile cases far worse than any he has ever had in 33 years in London.

He minced no words about TV here and its role in producing what he saw in the juvenile courts in our land.

Time magazine quoted him, in part:

"Television is the pernicious poison of America. I find nothing but shooting, prison scenes, divorces, teen-age girls going wrong. You can just twiddle it on any time day or night . . ."

By permitting our children to view in detail shotgun murders, stabbings and other brutal crimes committed by men without conscience, we are hardening our children to the point where the honest horror and shock at such crime, when it does occur, in real life, is weakened or absent, thanks to too much familiarity with such violence through TV.

Then we are shocked and stunned when mere children commit senseless murder, when teenagers torture old, helpless men for the "kicks," when youngsters who don't like their teachers set the school house ablaze, when a high school boy will strangle his date at a petting party. . . .

The fact that the fabric of our whole civilization is based on the avoidance of violence for the settling of human differences, (indeed survival on this planet in this atomic age depends on non-violent solutions) is not being gotten across to our children through TV programs.

The exact opposite viewpoint, that violence is the way to settle differences, is being drummed into their immature little heads day after day, week after week, month after month.

Let's all close the door to Murder, Inc. in our living room before too many more of our youngsters join the expanding Cult of Violence.

No Women Allowed

Women of Japan may be social climbers but they are not allowed to be mountain climbers. At least, they may not set foot on Mount Omine, near the shrine city of Nara.

Japanese women have gained most of their battles for equal rights in the past few years, but Mount Omine is still reserved for the men.

"What is wrong with women climbing Mount Omine?" asked three enthusiastic young women who wanted to scale its heights. "It is only a public park."

"Nothing is wrong with it," replied a Shinto priest, "except that you may not climb it."

No dainty feminine Japanese pedal extremity has ever set foot on the sacred male hill and that was reason enough for keeping the three adventurous Alpinists from ascending. They finally retreated but promised to return and call upon public opinion to support their cause.

If they win, what will they find when they reach the top? Probably only the other side of the mountain but they will have won another battle in their cause for equality. Maybe it is the name of the mountain which intrigues them. Mount O'mine—they want to make it theirs.

New Adlai Sally

Democratic presidential candidate Adlai Stevenson was criticized in the 1952 campaign for too many wisecracks. He has curbed his sense of humor somewhat this year. But he still can't resist the temptation to throw in a fast line here and there.

Some of his gaglines of 1956 are:

"The steady worsening of our world position from Iceland to Japan is not concealed by all the frantic trips of our misguided missile, the secretary of state."

San Francisco Prices Stern Test For GOP Prosperity Claim in West Coast Convention

PRICE IS RIGHT—San Francisco's colorful cable cars, which run up Nob Hill, probably are the cheapest item delegates will find in the price-minded city.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO —(NEA)— The Republican Party is about to dramatize the country's booming prosperity — for which it takes credit—by holding the most lavish, expensive convention in history.

The travel bill will be highest. It's the first West Coast GOP convention.

Not being able to split the costs of coverage with the Democratic convention in Chicago, the practice in the past, skyrockets the expense to news, radio and TV services.

And personal expenses to delegates are likely to set new records.

If a delegate gets by on $35 per day for the bare essentials of food, transportation and shelter he'll be lucky. The average delegate will shell out a lot more than that.

People here boast that the per capita income is higher than in any big U.S. city, a fact which has helped create a magnificent standard of eating and living. The result is a delightful, but expensive, experience for the visitor.

A single room in one of the better hotels is between $10 and $14 per day. Doubles are between $15 and $20. Suites go up to $60 per day. Deals have been made for private apartments and homes for $300 per day.

In this town it's vulgar to discuss money, and the fabulous food they serve, in the same breath. However, it can be revealed that dinner for one person at such famous eating places as Maison Paul, Trader Vic's or Omar Khayyam's can go to $15 without the waiter rating you a reckless spender.

For just drinking and relaxing there are such spots as the world-famous Top Of The Mark, the bar atop the Mark Hopkins Hotel with a magnificent view of the whole Bay area.

For strippers, gambling and spicier, more active forms of evening entertainment there's the Barbary Coast area—but, remember, the gals are running this convention.

Delegates are being encouraged to leave cars at home. This means taxi fare from downtown to the Cow Palace, where the convention meets, will run about $3 per trip. The thrifty can use a bus.

Delegates coming to the convention, even if they are loaded with dough, will be impressed by the prices. They must seem high even to San Francisco's thick pay envelope.

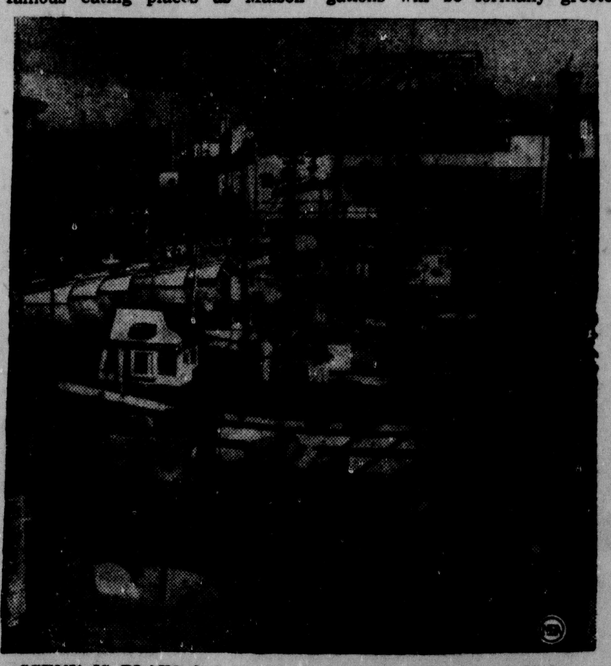
Mere cost of planning this convention is likely to set a record, too. It's always the practice to stay within the quarter of a million dollars which the town puts up to get the meeting. Insiders say the GOP will be lucky to spend anything less than twice that amount this time.

Delegates and convention planners aren't the only ones spending high for the convention, however. City and state welcoming groups are sparing no expense to make this a plush meeting.

There will be continuous music at the railroad and airport terminals for arriving visitors. Delegations will be formally greeted and escorted to their hotels. Flowers and gift bottles of California wine and champagne will be placed in the rooms of even the fairly important delegates and visitors.

California's Gov. Goodwin Knight is going to do it up good, too. He's throwing an elaborate reception and buffet dinner to welcome all delegates. Hollywood stars will be around acting as hosts.

A good, expensive time is expected to be had by all.



SCENE IS PLAIN, but the prices are fancy at famed Fisherman's Wharf. It's major San Francisco attraction.

Looking Backward . . .

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

E. E. Brasfield, Pettis County extension agent, accompanied by Mrs. Brasfield and their two daughters, returned from Madison, Wis., where he took a summer course at the University of Wisconsin.

1931

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Stafford, Jr., Mrs. Stafford's sister, Mrs. Louis Vandiver, Columbia, Miss Jean Montgomery, Manchester, Vt., John Z. Montgomery, W. R. Courtney, Fred Fulkerson, Jr., and John Martin arranged an automobile trip to the Stafford cabin in the mountains near South Fork, Colo., for a three-week outing.

1931

Miss Ruth Ann Archias, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Archias, 1214 West Fourth, arrived home from Neuchatel, Switzerland, where she had attended school for a year.

1931

Glenn Carroll, former Sedalian, manager of the Fox-Midland Theatre at Coffeyville, Kan., was held up and robbed of three sacks of money amounting to $272 by an unmasked bandit.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Four large machine guns arrived at Nevada, Mo., assigned to the Sedalia Machine Gun Co., and four large auto trucks on which they were to be mounted were ordered. On their arrival it was believed the Sedalia company would start for the Mexican border.

1916

During a heavy rain and electrical storm Wednesday evening, Aug. 9, lightning struck a metal awning in front of the Missouri Pacific passenger station, tearing a hole through it. No one at the station suffered any injuries from the shock.

1916

A small twister moving from the southwest southeastward struck the vicinity of LaMonte, wrecking two silos at the farm of Stanton Elliott, and at the farm of . A. Fleming a cattle barn was badly damaged and a silo toppled over.

Census Figures Favorable—

Pettis Retail Stores And Sales Show An Increase

By Maurice G. Bochl
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Retail sales are increasing in Missouri although the number of establishments has declined, according to figures just released by the Census Bureau.

Total sales by retail establishments in Missouri in 1954 (the year the census covers) were $4,525,308,000 as compared to $3,526,086,000 in 1948 when the last census was taken. In 1954, though, there were 47,262 retail stores as against 47,960 in the previous census.

The largest number of retail stores in the state fall in the "food stores" category. Next largest in the "eating, drinking places" section.

In Pettis County the 1954 census showed there were 434 retail stores of which 294 had a payroll. Total sales for the year was $35,460,000. Payroll for the entire year was $3,437,000. The number of paid employees in retail establishments totalled 1,610. In 1948, in the county there were 396 establishments with total sales of $29,322,000.

Largest group of retail stores in the county were the food stores (88) with 1954 sales of $7,256,000. Eating and drinking places were next, numbering 74 with sales of $2,261,000. The General merchandise group, department stores, dry goods and general merchandise stores numbered 13 and did a $3,105,000 business. The 31 apparel, accessories stores had sales of $2,157,000. The 23 furniture, home furnishings and appliance dealers sales totalled $1,807,000. The retailers in the automotive group numbered 29 and did a $8,014,000 business. There were 61 gasoline service stations doing a business of $2,227,000. The 27 lumber, building material, hardware and farm equipment dealers had sales of $3,364,000 while the 11 drug stores had sales of $1,016,000.

The other retail stores, which include jewelry, book, liquor, fuel, florists, news stands and the like, numbered 60 and did a $3,896,000 business. The nonstore retailers, direct house to house, numbered 17 with sales of $357,000.

Dr. Jordan Says—

Air Conditioning, Drugs Are Helpful in Hay Fever

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

It is sometimes strange how diseases get their names. Everyone knows what hay fever is. Rarely or never is there fever with it and the most severe kind, which comes in the early fall, is not caused by hay.

The worst and most widespread of the hay fevers is that which comes from ragweed pollen. The date of onset of symptoms depends on when this weed starts shedding its pollen into the air. In many sections this is on, or close to, August 15.

Probably the best solution for those unhappy thousands who suffer severely with ragweed or fall hay fever is either to take injections all the year round (or well in advance of the "season") or to find some favorable resort area to which they can go when ragweed pollen is heavy in the air.

In spite of this common knowledge, this year as in others, large numbers of people will be faced suddenly with the horrible thought that they have neither taken injections nor have they planned preventive vacations.

What then can they do to lessen the misery of sneezing, irritated eyes, and the other unpleasant accompaniments of hay fever?

One of the measures they can consider is air conditioning. In many public buildings the air going in is washed or filtered as well as cooled so that all or most of the pollen is removed.

Even for the private home something can be done. Many small air-conditioning units are on the market.

There are also drugs which help to relieve the worst symptoms.

Those which have the most dramatic effects are the antihistamines which have been available for several years. These are taken by mouth. They do not in any sense constitute a permanent cure but often bring striking relief of symptoms for several hours at a time.

The use of these drugs is not simple. It is hard to choose which one to use since there are so many. Also, some work best for some people and others seem superior in other cases.

It isn't entirely safe to take these antihistamines without direction. Unpleasant side effects have been found. Some people are made sleepy by some of the preparations and this can be dangerous in driving a car or a locomotive.

Nevertheless, a great many people are tremendously helped by drugs and air conditioning and these measures have aided many thousands to survive the ragweed hay fever season much more comfortably than in the past.

TWO TEEN-AGE BOYS were talking about dating and places they had gone on dates recently when one of them asked the other, "I heard that you double-dated the other night."

The questioned young man said, "Yes, my date and I double-dated and had a real good time at the drive-in."

The other fellow said, "Say, who did you double-date with?" The other answered, "My Mom and Dad," then he quickly added, "in order to keep them out of trouble."

Man Without Friends

"He has a strange philosophy,"
I heard somebody say;
"He wants no friends — I cannot see
"How man can live that way."
Another said, "I've never seen
"A smile upon his face",
So talented — a mind so keen,
Yet life without a base;
And each one had a bit to tell
Of how he built this wall,
This man they seemed to know so well
And Still knew not at all;
He has great faith and yet how can
He follow what God teaches
If he loves not his fellowman
And sees how far faith reaches?
It seems his fortune grows and grows
He works things out his way
Caring not what he does to those
He meets throughout the day;
Ah, yes, today he's building wealth,
Today he's young and strong,
Today he's in the best of health
And nothing can go wrong;
Today he has his family — and —
He's never tasted sorrow,
Today he needs no helping hand —
But what about tomorrow?
There must be sadness in his heart
And turmoil in his mind,
For one who sets himself apart —
What solace can he find?
Today—oh, God, he needs you now
To guide his footsteps right,
For lo, alone his head will bow
In shadows of the night.

YESTERDAY

Remodeling Fever Jumps Americans

This coming year the air will be buzzing with talk about remodeling. You'll be reading stories about the magic that can be accimplished by putting a new front on a house. You'll be seeing countless pictures showing how blighted housing areas can be given new life, new beauty, new livability—with the aid of imagination and energy.

Before you know it, you'll be getting remodeling-fever yourself and will be looking with questioning eyes at rooms that are too small, at closets that are too crowded and at kitchens that are out-dated.

The whole housing industry is going to be at your service to aid you in your undertakings.

Prime worker of remodeling magic, of course, is that colorful substance known as paint. With paint, you can work a major transformation in the appearance of a room—or the outside of a house—more quickly than with any other device. With it, you can bring about greater change—more economically than with any other building material. Actually, you can paint the walls, ceiling and woodwork of an average room in just a few hours—and with approximately ten dollars worth of paint-color.

Whether you use a gleaming gloss enamel, a semi-gloss, a velvety flat finish or a transparent coating, you immediately gain the sense of newness, freshness . . . great cleanliness.

In addition, there are countless changes and improvements you can make in the appearance of your home—merely by your color decisions.

You can make small rooms seem larger—and barn-like ones, cozier. You can "lower" too-tall rooms and give the appearance of greater height to rooms with low ceilings. You can improve the architectural appearance of a room that is badly proportioned or that is too "cut-up" with badly placed woodwork. You can even make a room seem warmer or cooler. It all depends on the hues selected from your color card.

Let's talk, first, about "enlarging" small rooms. You do it by using light tints on the walls and by painting the woodwork to match. To make large, barn-like rooms more inviting, you use a rich, darker hue on the walls. If the woodwork is goid, is well-proportioned and well-placed, you emphasize it by coating it in a color different from that used on the walls.

To "lower" the too-tall room, you paint the ceiling in a deep color and — possibly — carry the ceiling color down onto the wall for a foot or two. The too-low ceiling is made to seem higher by painting it in white or a very light tint of the wall color.

How do you improve a room that is badly proportioned? Well, let's say that you have a room that is too long for its width. Then use a dark color on the end walls, a light hue on the side ones.

When a room has woodwork that is badly proportioned, unattractive and awkwardly placed, minimize its shortcomings by painting the woodwork to match the walls against which it is placed. This helps to camouflage its deficiencies.

To "warm" a room that always seems chilly, select a wall color that belongs to the family of hues known as "warm colors." These are the reds, oranges, yellows and yellow-greens. Such variations of these colors as rose, terra cotta and dark ivory would, of course, belong in this group. To "cool" a room, engage the services of the cool blues, violets, blue-greens or blue-grays.

Similar color-magic techniques can be applied, as well, to home exteriors.

Simple Care Keeps Resilient Floors Beautiful; More Wear

Resilient floors can be kept beautiful with a minimum of simple care. With occasional attention, using good quality cleaners and waxes, floors will stay in good condition and give many extra years of wear.

Studies made by resilient floor manufacturers show that most people overwash and overwax their floors, thus making unnecessary work for themselves without really benefitting their floors. It is the opinion of many experts that more floors are worn out by scrubbing than by actual wear.

By following a few simple rules the homemaker can be assured of getting the maximum beauty and wear from her floors with the least amount of work.

A damp mop will remove light soiling. However, when a complete washing is indicated use warm water and a mild cleaner, such as Nairn Linoleum Cleaner. For stubborn smudges fine steel wool will do the trick, and for marks from rubber heels use a cloth moistened in household cleaning fluid (except Asphalt tile). Rinse the surface of the floor thoroughly with clear clean water and allow to dry completely before applying wax. For best waxing results apply a light coat of water emulsion type wax, such as Nairn Self-Polishing Wax. Allow wax to dry thoroughly, then apply a second very light coat of wax and let dry. Where a high luster is required, buff the floor after the wax has dried.

The so-called water emulsion type waxes have been on the market for many years and are well accepted as the preferred finish for all floor coverings. They do not contain any solvents that are harmful or injurious to floor coverings and are safer because they are less slippery. It is also interesting to note that when it comes time to strip off old, discolored wax and renew the finish of the floor, water emulsion waxes are easier to remove.

Avoid using strong soaps or abrasive cleaning compounds, as alkaline soaps may soften the surface, and abrasive cleaners may roughen the natural smoothness of many floor coverings. Do not apply lacquer, plastic or other hard finishes to any smooth surface floor covering. These materials scratch quickly and will give a shabby appearance in areas of constant wear. They also tend to yellow the colors and soften the surface of the floor as they age. Also, they are extremely difficult to remove without causing permanent damage to the floor covering.

It is important to remember that broken casters and small metal slides indent floor coverings and may damage them permanently. Equip furniture with large surface caster glides or furniture cups.

Where the flooring is asphalt tile the use of cleaners or waxes containing solvents such as benzine, turpentine, naphtha, etc., must be avoided, as they will soften the composition of the tile and cause the colors to run, permanently injuring the material.

LONG AND LOW, this ranch style house has one of the most popular of modern plans. Its center foyer provides perfect circulation between rooms. Laundry is on the main floor and there is an abundance of storage space. It can be built without basement by using the stair space for another large closet and locating a modern horizontal heating plant in a small crawl space adjacent to the chimney. The house covers 1,838 square feet without porch and garage. This is plan B2952AP by Alwin Cassens Jr., architect, 145 So. Franklin Ave., Valley Stream, N. Y.

Mrs. Dennis DesLauriers

Miss Jeanie Wiemholt Exchanges Vows With Dennis Des Lauriers

At nine o'clock on the morning of July 28 St. Patrick's Church was the scene of an impressive wedding when Miss Jeanie Wiemholt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Wiemholt, 103 East 28th, became the bride of A-1c Dennis E. Des Lauriers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Des Lauriers, Starkweather, North Dakota, with the Rev. Francis Gallen, chaplain at Whiteman Air Force Base, officiating at the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with palms and baskets of majestic daisies and white gladiolas.

Preceding the ceremony, William Couhig sang several selections, accompanied by Mrs. John Seifner, Jr., organist. The traditional wedding march was played and during the ceremony Mr. Couhig sang "Mother Beloved", "Panis Angelicus", and "O Lord I Am Not Worthy."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white gown of Venise lace over bridal satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with long sleeves, and a wide V neckline outlined with scallops of lace. A sheer yoke was finished with a lace framing tulip collar. The skirt of nylon tulle over satin, featured a gathered peplum of lace, short across the front, lengthening at the sides, and forming a wide chapel train. The scalloped edge of the lace bordered the peplum and train. Her headdress was a crown of lace, embroidered with pearls and sequins, holding a fingertip illusion. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The maid of honor, Miss Martha Wiemholt, wore a ballerina-length dress of rose pink Chantilly lace and tulle over taffeta. Seven ruffles of lace formed the bouffant skirt, which was veiled by an overskirt of gathered tulle. A tiny cut away bolero was worn over the strapless bodice. Her flowers were pink majestic daisies.

The six bridesmaid's dresses, in a trio of pastel colors, were made in the same style. Miss Rosemary Sedlak and Miss Mary Ann Donohue wore sky blue, Miss Carolyn Wiemholt and Miss Patricia Hall, sunny maize, and Miss Virginia Dorweiler and Miss Ida Mae Bahner, tender green. They carried bouquets of majestic daisies and all wore bandeaux of taffeta to match their dresses.

James Wiemholt, brother of the bride, served as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Wiemholt William Joseph Schreck, James Eckley, Arthur Bellinger, William Yankivch and Tony Russo.

Miss Janet Wiemholt and Master Ricky Wiemholt, niece and nephew of the bride, were the flower girl and ring bearer respectively. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wiemholt. Janet wearing a dress of white taffeta and nylon lace fashioned after that of the brides and a floral head band carried a miniature bouquet of stephanotis. Ricky, attired in a navy blue suit with white boutonniere, carried the rings on a satin pillow.

The bride's mother wore a dress of white linen, embroidered with gold thread and sequins, and white accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations.

Dinner was held at noon at the home of the bride's parents for members of the wedding party and a number of relatives and friends. The reception followed from three until five in the afternoon. The table was covered with a lace cloth gathered at the corners with rose buds. The three-tiered cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was surrounded by red rose buds and fern. Miss Ruth Pfeiffer and Miss Margaret Heller presided over the punch bowl. Miss Mickey Moellman was in charge of the guest book.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip. For traveling, the bride chose a pink nylon dress and white accessories with a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, class of 1953, and for the past two years has been employed in the office at Town and Country. The bridegroom is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base.

The couple is now at home in the Beverly Arms Apts.

Emma R. Knipp, Robert Williams Exchange Vows

Miss Emma Rose Knipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Knipp, Tipton, became the bride of Robert Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Williams, Tipton, Saturday, July 21 at St. Andrew's Catholic Church with a wedding low mass at 9:30. The Rev. Father James Steidel performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length white gown. The bodice was lace over satin with long sleeves tapering over her wrists. The skirt was a complete tier of nylon marquisette ruffles over satin. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Della Koechner, maid of honor, wore a ballerina length pink dress of nylon faille, and she wore a crown of pink rose buds. The bridesmaid, Miss Joan Knipp, sister of the bride, wore a blue dress identical to that of the maid of honor. Both carried bouquets of white carnations.

Leroy Knipp acted as best man and Jimmy Sanders as groomsman. The ushers were Pete Knipp, Melvin Knipp, Raymond Wolf and Paul Breer.

The bride's mother wore a yellow faille dress and the groom's mother wore a navy blue crepe. Both had white carnation corsages.

At 12:00 noon a dinner was served at the American Legion Hall to about 50 guests. The hall was decorated in pink and blue. The bride's table held a three tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. Table waitresses were Glenda Nau, Pat Scheir, Linda Morlock and Joyce Knipp.

A reception was held from 2 to 4 in the afternoon. The wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Lewis Dix. The lunch was served by Mrs. David Knipp. Mrs. Melvin Knipp was in charge of the gifts.

That evening the wedding party and friends and relatives attended a dance at the Playmore at Versailles.

The bride's going away dress was light blue with white accessories.

The following Tuesday a shower was held at the home of the groom's parents. They received many nice gifts.

Mrs. Robert M. Merritt

Miss Jonna Lois McKendree Weds Robert M. Merritt in Evening

Miss Jonna Lois McKendree, Sedalia, daughter of Mrs. Upshaw McKendree, 705 West Fourth, and John U. McKendree, Fulton, Kentucky, and Robert Monroe Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Monroe Merritt, Kansas City, pledged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed by Dr. Elmer LeRoy Hobbs at eight o'clock the evening of August 5 at the First Methodist Church. White asters in altar vases decorated the chancel.

Mrs. C. D. Demand, organist, playd "Andante Cantabile," Tchaikowsky, "Nocturne," Chopin, "Serenade," Schubert, "Liebestraum," Liszt, "Wedding March" by Wagner, as the processional, "O Perfect Love," Barnby, during the ceremony, and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." as the recessional. Jerry Solomon, Chillicothe, sang "I Love Thee," by Grieg, before the ceremony, and "The Lord's Prayer" after the ministers prayer.

Michael Hanigan and Kit Taylor, the church acolytes, who were robed, lighted the tapers.

The bride wore a gown of imported Chantilly lace with a long torso bodice of lace featuring a deep round yoke of tulle bordered with lace flowers outlined with seed pearls. The long lace sleeves tapered into points over the hands. The skirt which was slightly longer in the back, was styled with four lace ruffles divided by a front panel of pleated tulle, with a net overskirt. A headdress of lace with flowers outlined in seed pearls held a fingertip length veil of tulle bordered with matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with dairymaid carnations and filled in with stephanotis and tulle.

Mrs. Thomas Gerald Stovall, of Lexington, Ky., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a dress of pink crystelette with long torso with a point in back of the bodice, and a waltz length gored skirt. She wore a headdress of crystelette, similar to the bride's in shape, with a short tulle veil. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations in the center with stephanotis encircled with white carnations and pink tulle.

Miss Margie Cummins, Sedalia and Miss Eleanore Fisher, Dallas, Texas, were bridesmaids. They wore gowns styled identical to the matron of honors in a deeper shade of pink.

Russell Merritt, Kansas City, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Richard Hurley and Robert Moore of Kansas City. Ushers were Bill Carpenter, Sedalia, Richard Spencer, Windsor, Robert Schmer, Warrensburg and Irvin Cockriel.

Little Miss Caroline Wayne Wilson, niece of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mayo Wilson, Sedalia, dressed in a long torso styled dress in the shade of pink of the matron of honor's dress, with a skirt gathered on with inverted pleats in the back, was flowergirl.

Master William Daniel Wilson III, nephew of the bride, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mayo Wilson, was ringbearer.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of brown lace with beige accessories. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue lace dress and white accessories. Both wore corsages of Talisman roses.

A reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church dining room. The bride's cake was decorated with pink roses. Pink carnations, stephanotis and greenery encircled the cake which was on an heirloom linen cloth. Two crystal candle holders enhanced the table. Miss Mary Jane Fields and Miss Jan Gregory, Kansas City, Miss Mary Faye Wilson, Osceola, and Miss Shirley Bennett, Sedalia, served at the bride's table. Miss Sandra Ryan was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling, the bride chose a blue shantung sheath with navy and white polka dot tie at the back of the neck and navy accessories.

The couple will be home after August 12 in Kansas City.

The bride is a graduate of CMSC where she was a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma and various school organizations. She was elected to "Who's Who Among College Students in American Colleges and Universities." She will teach in Raytown this fall.

The bridegroom has served four years in the Navy and will graduate in January from Central Missouri State College, where he is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon. He is in the accounting department of Skelly Oil in Kansas City until school starts.

Cook diced carrots and celery together in one saucepan for a supper vegetable. They will be done in the same length of time if they are cut in even pieces.

Freeze maraschino cherries in ice cubes; use for lemonade. Add a mint leaf to each cherry if you like.

Mrs. Jack Gattner

Miss Judy Craig Exchanges Vows With Jack Gattner in Morning

On Saturday, August 4, at nine a.m. Miss Judy Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Craig, 1721 West 16th, and Jack Gattner, son of Mrs. Forrest LePard, Lake Odessa, Mich., and Clare Gattner, Detroit, Mich., were united in marriage with the Rev. G. P. Pelletier performing the ceremony at Sacred Heart Church. The church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and chrysanthemums with a background of jade foliage.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Earl Paxton played "I Love You Truly" and accompanied Bill Couhig who sang "On This Day" and "Ava Maria." She also played the traditional wedding march.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of snow white Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The fitted bodice of lace was fashioned with long tapering sleeves and scoop neckline which was outlined with a cut out applique of lace and embroidered with sequins. Sheer illusion formed the yoke and was finished with a small upstanding collar. The very bouffant skirt was formed of alternating bands of gathered lace and tulle with underskirts of tulle and satin. Her bridal veil fell from an imported Juliet cap of French pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations centered with sweetheart roses, with a satin ribbon shower. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

The maid of honor, Miss Joyce Craig, sister of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Coletta Sue Elkins, cousin of the bride, wore matching gowns of bridal pink and powder blue and carried cascades of pink and blue carnations.

Dennis Keefe, friend of the bridegroom, served as best man, with Milford Kennedy as groomsman. Ushers were Dickie Craig, brother of the bride, and Jimmie Hayes, friend of the bridegroom.

The two flower girls, Miss Rosemary and Janis Hogan, cousins of the bride, were attired in identical matching gowns styled like the other attendants.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of mint green dotted swiss over taffeta with lace trim and matching lace bollero. Her picture frame hat and matching accessories were Flamingo. She wore a corsage of white carnations. The mother of the bridegroom was unable to attend.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from two until four in the afternoon. The three-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was decorated with silver leaves and sweetheart roses and was encircled with greenery and roses.

Immediately after the reception, the couple and the wedding party left for Kansas City where they attended a wedding dance in their honor at Wildwood Lakes.

The bride is a graduate of Sacred Heart High School, class of 1955.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Lake Odessa Community High, class of 1953. He is now stationed at Whiteman AFB.

The couple is now residing at 1723½ South Kentucky.

Your Wardrobe
by Frances Segaloff

Once again it is time for Back-to-School talk. Wardrobes for back to school are always interesting and exciting. The newest thing being shown this season are car coats and I think many of us will enjoy wearing one. They come in a large variety of fabrics and colors so you can take your choice. Most of them are water repellennt and for added glamor and warmth many of them have hoods. Dyed-to-match separates continue to be fabulous. These outfits of course are smart and they do give you a monotone look that is always easy on the eye. Very often you will find a solid skirt and a tweed skirt that can be worn with the same sweater or blouse and of course, that is also easy on the budget. You simply can't go back to school unless you include a few corduroy separates. Tweed and plaid look corduroy is new and very good. Skirts both full and straight are included in this collection. Raincoats, jackets and jumpers that can double as an after six sheath are also available in corduroy. Glen Plaid too is important for back to school and of course I need not tell you how very versatile this fabric is regardless of what you own in it. Cotton blouses are more important than ever — and don't forgt to have several little white collars, they add so much to your sweaters and simple dresses.

All-Star Gridders To Clash

Central Missouri, Pony Express Loop All-Stars to Meet In 'State Fair Bowl'

The cream of the Pony Express Conference and of Central Missouri high school football players gather on Friday night, Aug. 31, at Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium to take part in the first annual State Fair Bowl game. These All-Stars will be playing their last high school type of football before entering college competition.

Head coaches have been chosen. Al Conway, former North Kansas City coach, which won the Pony Express Conference in 1956 and Ralph "Stub" Dow, whose Smith-Cotton Tigers won the Central Missouri Conference, will handle the two All-Star teams. Conway, the Pony Express; Dow, the Central Missouri.

Both coaches have picked some of their players for this big event.

Conway has been limited entirely to the Pony Express Conference players while Dow was given the opportunity to pick from several teams other than the CEMO.

From the early lists released by the Sedalia Rotary Club football committee as to the players picked, it is much in evidence both desired a good portion of the players from their own championship school teams.

Conway has named Dwight Bailey, center; Tim Ryan, tackle; Wayne Daniels, guard; Phil Snowden, quarterback; Dave Bolsenga, end; Mike Morrow, end; Paul Bailey, tackle; and Ed Conway, end. All of those boys are from Northtown. So far he has named Bill Summers, guard; Allen Richie, fullback; and Darle Nespray, tackle, all from Richmond. He has said he will name the others from Excelsior Springs, Independence, William Chrisman, St. Joseph, and other teams from that area.

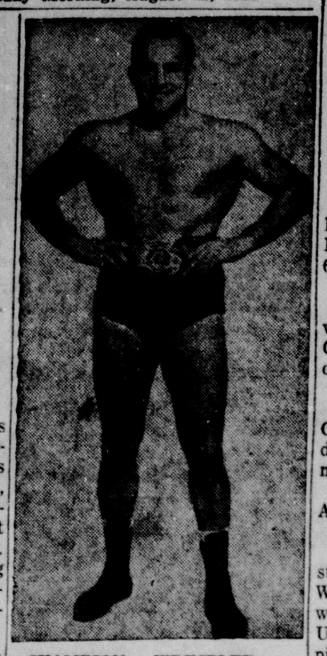
Dow likewise stuck with his 1956 starters. Van Van Dyne, end; Rudd Van Dyne, fullback; Donald Barber, tackle; Norris Kelley, guard; Tommy Austin, center; Bill Wingfield, and Tom Noland, backs; and Walter Kennon, end, all from Smith-Cotton. Bobby Watkins, halfback, Mexico; Roger McCoy, fullback, Centralia; Jimmie Griffin, halfback, and Bachelor, tackle, frome Raytown; Jo Ritman, quarterback, and Bill Vander Linde, guard, both of Lee's Summit; Jim Richards, guard, Blue Springs; Barry Beebe, halfback, Warrensburg; Jim Kalthoff, quarterback, Marshall; Jerry Roberts, quarterback, Butler; Russell Sloan, end, Hickman High of Columbia.

The records of all these boys and those to be selected will be given later when all names have been listed by the coaches with the committee.

However, there are several boys on both teams who made All-State in 1955; Phil Snowden, first team; Paul Bailey, second team; and Dave Bolsenga, third team; while Tim Ryan, Wayne Daniels and Allen Richie, were honorable mention on Conway's squad. Dow has Norris Kelley, Bill Vander Linde, and Roger McCoy, first team; Rudd Van Dyne, second team; Bobby Watkins and Russell Sloan, third team; Jimmie Griffin, honorable mention.

The Rotary Club has enlisted the aid of three business firms to handle tickets for the game, other than each member of the organization being on the ticket committee.

Tickets can be obtained at both the east Sedalia Bing's United Super Store and the store in West Sedalia; and in South Sedalia at Hurtt's Pharmacy on West 16th; downtown at the Chamber of Commerce office and the Sedalia Drug Store. For mail orders on the tickets they can be obtained by writing to 108 East Fifth, "Football Ticket Office."



CHAMPION WRESTLER — Verne Gagne, Chicago, Ill., comes to Sedalia Tuesday night to meet Missouri's title holder, Joe Dusek, in the feature event on the Pettis County Post No. 16, American Legion, wrestling card. The matches are to be held at the Liberty Park baseball diamond.

Sedalia's Countryview golf course will hold an 18-hole flight tournament for young golfers 14 years and under Tuesday, Aug. 14. This type tournament gives anyone entered, no matter how good a golf game he plays, a chance to win in his respective flight.

The tourney will be divided into three classes, "A" Flight, "B" Flight and "C" Flight. The scores on the first nine holes, which are to be played in the morning beginning about 9:30, will determine which flight the individual will play in. Those shooting the first nine holes in better than 50 strokes will be placed in "A" Flight, scores of between 50 and 59 for the round will play in "B" Flight, and the nine-hole scores of 60 or higher will compete in "C" Flight.

Scores on the afternoon round, added to the morning qualifying round, will decide the winners in each flight.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the winners in each of the three classes. Entry fee is $1.00.

Youngsters needing transportation to the tournament are requested to call Frank Reynolds at 1083-J any time before 8:30 Tuesday morning.

On Golf

By FRANKIE REYNOLDS

It looks like we've finally got the ball rolling in the way of a more active golfing program for the youth of Sedalia.

The enthusiasm created by the Junior Golf Championship held at the Country Club recently has brought to light the need for more competitive events for the younger set.

So, in response the Country Club has scheduled another affair for the juniors — a 36-hole medal play tournament. The tourney is to be held Aug. 25-26 with 18 holes to be played each day. The winner will be determined by the lowest total score for the 36 holes.

Then the Countryview course is following up with an event for the youngsters. An 18-hole flight tournament for junior golfers 14 years and under will be held at Countryview on Tuesday.

Several of these such tournaments held during the summer would keep Sedalia's young golfers in the competitive spirit, and would encourage other youths to take up the game.

Anyway, there's a good start underway and if the boys continue to show interest they'll probably be given more opportunity to test and develop their golfing skill.

This pro Francis "Bo" Wininger has gone a long way in the golf world the past few years, or at least since he played here back in '53.

"Bo" made his bid in the 1953 Sedalia Pro-Amateur tournament and, by his performance then, didn't impress local golf fans as being much of a sensation.

But that was in '53 and is little comparison to the golfer he has become since. He placed high in several tournaments last year and started cashing in on his share of the money winnings on the pro circuit the past winter.

Wininger, now playing out of Odessa, Tex., opened the summer season with a bang by capturing the Kansas City Open. And at present he's among the leaders in the scramble for the first place $50,000 jackpot in the World Championship at Tam O'Shanter. "Bo" fired rounds of 65-70—135 in the first two days of the tournament, which ends today.

Considering his successful campaign on the pro tour of late, he's very likely to walk away with the fat winner's purse with Sedalians remembering watching him play here while "on his way up."

Frisch Suffers Heart Seizure, Is Critical

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Aug. 11 (AP)—Hospital officials said today Frankie Frisch, former manager of the Chicago, St. Louis and Pittsburgh teams in the National League, suffered a heart attack on Thursday but added they would not know how serious until Monday.

Frisch, now a television sports commentator, is in an oxygen tent and his condition is listed as critical.

The first car credited with more than two miles a minute was powered by steam.

Gagne-Dusek Bout for Mat Title Tuesday

TUESDAY'S WRESTLING CARD
At Liberty Ball Park—8:15
MAIN EVENT

Verne Gagne, 228, Robbinsdale, Minn., vs. Joe Dusek, 233, Omaha. Best two out of three falls, or a 60-minute time limit.

GIRLS' FEATURE

Ada Ash, 140, Lake Worth, Fla., vs. Kathy Starr, 137, Columbus, Ohio. Best two out of three falls, or a 45-minute time limit.

OPENING SPECIAL

Roy McClarity, 235, Montreal, Canada, vs. Jim Dobie, 226, Independence, Mo. One fall, or a 30-minute time limit.

Matches sponsored by Pettis American Legion Post.

America's greatest scientific-styled heavyweight and the Middle West's most villainous rough-houser will lock horns in a battle for the United States TV wrestling championship at Sedalia's Liberty Ball Park Tuesday night.

Verne Gagne, defending U. S. champion, will pit his speed and perfect mat record against the challenge of rowdy Joe Dusek in the featured title matching. It will mark the first time Gagne has appeared in the Sedalia ring and also the first time the popular TV star has ever come to grips with a member of the Dusek brothers "wrecking crew."

Gagne's record is unequalled in mat annals. He hasn't lost a match since moving up to the heavyweight division about two years ago. Prior to upping his weight to 228 pounds, Verne was the undefeated world junior heavyweight champion (205-pound class).

Gagne has one of the most fabulous backgrounds of any wrestler now in the pro ranks. He is a two-time National Intercollegiate champion and also held the Big Ten conference light-heavyweight title for three successive years while he was a member of the University of Minnesota's mat team. Verne also landed a berth on the U. S. Olympic team at the 1948 London games.

Joe Dusek, who holds the Missouri state title, has been trying for more than a year to get a crack at Gagne's coveted crown. Joe's unbeaten mark since winning the showdown battle with "Red" McIntyre for the state championship here last April left the big Nebraskan as the most logical contender for the U. S. laurels.

Gagne accepted Matchmaker Karras' offer to stake his title against Dusek here. The Minnesotan said he was anxious to make his first appearance in Central Missouri and added that he recognizes Dusek's claim as the No. 1 contender. It's apparent that Gagne feels he should face the Dusek challenge without further delay and settle the issue once and for all.

Adding to the variety for Tuesday night's ring bill will be the return appearance of Ada Ash, who made a big hit with the fans when she wrestled a 200-pound Florida alligator. Miss Ash's second opponent here will be Kathy Starr and their matching is slated to go the best two of three falls.

Roy McClarity, handsome Canadian star and also a widely known TV wrestler, will match his clever assortment of aerial mat skill against Jim Dobie of Independence, Mo., in a the special event which opens the big three-match card.

Tuesday night's matches will get under way at 8:15 with the ball park gates and box office opening at 7:15. Tickets have been placed on advance sale at the Midway Shoe Repair shop and the Pacific Cafe.

Sports Scraps

By D. KELLY SCRUTON

ONE thing for sure, the Sedalia Rotary Club has stirred up interest in the first annual "State Fair Bowl" football game scheduled for Friday night, Aug. 31, at the Jennie Jaynes Memorial Stadium. The Rotary Club which is sponsoring the game will benefit only in a way of helping out its Youth Activity Fund.

It is a non-profit venture as far as any individuals are concerned, the money going for the expenses of the boys, individual awards to the players and coaches, that party to Rotary and part to the Jennie Jaynes Foundation, the latter to be used to help carry the maintenance of Sedalia's beautiful athletic outlay.

Although some coaches have refused to sanction the game, Don Faurot, University of Missouri athletic director and head football coach, has given it his blessings. Faurot feels the boys who will enter the University as Freshmen next year under football scholarships will be far advanced in their training that those players reporting for Freshmen football the first part of September.

There is always that chance of a boy getting hurt. There is always a chance of him getting hurt in the opening of the Freshmen football season, but the percentage of a boy being injured in these high school bowl games is very very low.

Rotary Club members have been busy "button-holing" their friends to buy tickets and the response has been far better for this first venture than was actually anticipated. It is expected by game time there will be two to three thousand tickets sold in advance. There is an advantage of getting your tickets early too—you don't have to wait in line to buy one at the box office, just walk to the gate and go through. "No delay that way," Jack Cunningham, chairman said.

The Sedalia Rotary as an example use their money for hot lunch program, Teen Town, Foreign Student program, and will also assist in the Crippled Children's center.

Your money will be spent for worthwhile projects if you buy your ticket to the game.

ENDEAVORING to give vacationers and sportsmen everything they desire when going to the Lake of the Ozarks a golf course open to the public has been built one mile north of Versailles. It is known as the Rolling Hills Country Club and its official opening was held Sunday, Aug. 5.

Many cottage owners in the vicinity of the Lake of the Ozarks south of Versailles have inspired the people of Versailles to build the course which is expected to attract golfers as well as fishermen in the area.

Don Duwe, golf-pro from St. Louis, gave a clinic on the opening day and Murray Oeth, former Central College great, acted as master-of-ceremonies during the day.

NEXT Saturday will be a busy one at the State Fair when the Big Car Races will be run in the afternoon and the cake of entertainment to be frosted over with a nice coating of thrills and spills by the Aut Swenson Thrillcade Show.

The National Speedways Inc., have scheduled seven big racing events for Saturday afternoon and also on Sunday. Al Sweeney, of the organization announced a full entry list for both days of top-notch and nationally known big car pilots.

The races are sanctioned by the IMCA.

Aut Swenson, likewise known here by many Missourians as one of the big time promoters of thrill shows, has announced he is bringing to Sedalia something new and different in thrill entertainment as well as a program of supercharged suicide stunts by world famed daredevils. He uses a complete line of Ford automobiles for the thrill show.

Begin Workouts Thursday---

Dow Calls for Smith-Cotton Gridders Report to Practice

Smith-Cotton football players attention: Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow has issued a call for all sophomore, junior and senior football players to report for practice on Thursday, Aug. 16. Players are to report to Smith-Cotton high school at 5:15 p. m. sharp.

Eleven lettermen are returning to Smith-Cotton this year and it is expected all 11 will be out for football again this season. There are any number of other Tiger players who fell short of making a first team letter but are expected to be out to compete for the starting squad berth this year.

Practice, Dow said, will be more of conditioning these first few days. However, we will be into hard work by the time school opens to get ready for the first game of the season scheduled for Friday, Sept. 14 with Fulton there.

Boys reporting for the early practice must bring shorts. Those who have not already received football shoes will be issued a pair. The first two or three days will be spent in getting into shape by running, calisthenics, and listening to "football."

Coach Dow has three days of football clinic at Raytown for coaches on Monday through Wednesday at which he will participate as an instructor. He will attend the All-Star high school game there Wednesday night and look over some of the players who will be playing under Coach Al Conway in that game and to compare notes for the "State Fair Bowl" game here on Aug. 31.

Coach Dow expects both his assistants, Coaches Howard Glavin and Bob Edmondson to be back in town for the early part of this season's coaching of the Tigers. Both will assist him with the bowl game team here also.

The 1956 Tiger schedule:

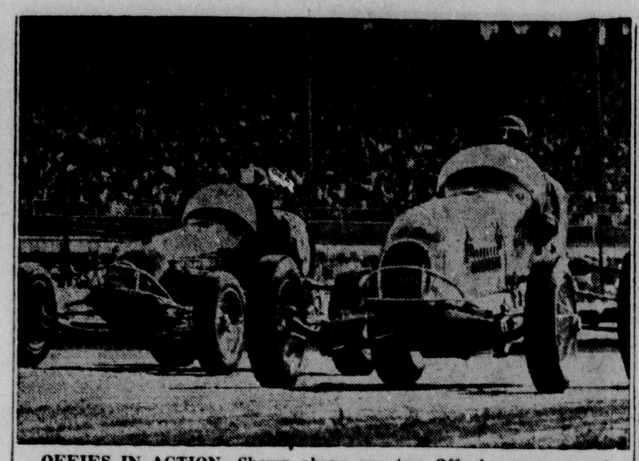
Sept. 14. Fulton, there.
Sept. 21. St. Joseph Central, here.
Sept. 29. Springfield, there, (Saturday).
Oct. 5. North K. C., here.
Oct. 12. Hannibal, there.
Oct. 19. Columbia, there.
Oct. 26. Jefferson City, here (Homecoming).
Nov. 2. Raytown, there.
Nov. 9. Mexico, here.
Nov. 16. Kemper M. A., there. (Afternoon game 2:45).

Brown to Tangle With Bud Smith In Light Bout

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 11—(AP)—Joe Brown, who has long dwelt in the vestibule at the door to the lightweight championship, firmly believes that lightning can strike twice in the same place, and aims to prove it against champion Bud Smith next week.

The 30-year-old New Orleans Negro boxer gave Smith a convincing whipping in a non-title affair at Houston last May. Although Brown is ranked only eighth among contenders, he was rewarded with a crack at the championship.

The bout Aug. 24 will climax a journey that began ten years and 107 fights ago. While convinced lightning can hit the same spot twice, Brown knows opportunity may knock but once.



OFFIES IN ACTION—Shown above are two Offenhauser-powered race cars of the type which will be seen in action here next Saturday and Sunday, Kicking off a six-event extravaganza of motor racing, biggest ever presented to its patrons in the 54-year history of the Missouri State Fair.

New Resort Being Built Near Stover

What is expected to be one of the beauty spots in resorts is being developed on the Lake of the Ozarks south of Stover on Lake Road 69 by the "Ivy Bend" Development Co. Approximately 1,500 acres of land is incorporated in the resort area which is being surveyed off in building lots for cottages.

Already a beautiful park area has been built equipped with picnic tables, barbecue ovens and pits, with a deep well now in operation. Those in charge of the development, R. V. "Roger" Revenaugh and Phil M. Clifford, are opening the picnic area and beach to the public for their enjoyment for the remainder of this season.

A 600 foot waterfront area with a sand beach has been built. During grading and bulldozing of the property along the area deep sand pit with white sand was uncovered. The sand was moved to the beach before the rise of the Lake recently giving it one of the most attractive beaches along the lake.

Reaching out into the lake is an 80-foot covered dock from which the visitors are invited to use for fishing.

Land along the lake front has been cleared and surveyed off into three tiers of building lots. The lots range from 75 foot frontage up to over 100 feet in some cases and the lots average a depth of 120 feet. All-weather roads have been constructed in the resort area, especially into and around the park area.

Revenaugh in announcing the opening of the development said "although the park is for the exclusive use of the property owners and their guests, it is being opened to the public this summer and fall subject to certain restrictions of its use. No charges are to be made to anyone who desire to spend their Sundays or leisure hours on the lake. We have also cut up much of the timber cleared from the property for use in the barbecue ovens for the conveniences and without charge to the visitors.

"Our restrictions are for the people to have the use of the land, but must keep the area clean of rubbish and such. We also emphasize there is no obligation on anyone who cares to visit the park and make use of it," he said.

To get to the resort, drive to Stover, take 135 south from Stover to Lake Road No. 69.

The deepest undersea photo ever made was by David Owen of the Woods Hole, Me., Oceanographic Institution in 1950 at 18,000 feet.

LEADING CHALLENGER — Among leading challengers of pace-setting Bobby Grim will be Bill Chennault of Kansas City (above), slated to drive in big car speed events at the State Fair next weekend.

Plans New Football Stadium at Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 11 (AP)—The U. S. Naval Academy is going ahead with plans to build a new football stadium here and hopes to construct it within the next two years.

Decision to construct the new plant to replace antiquated Thompson Stadium was announced today by Rear Adm. William R. Smedberg III, academy superintendent, and Capt. C. Elliott Loughlin, athletic director.

It will be financed by the Naval Academy Athletic Assn., a non-profit organization which supports varsity sports at the academy, and a fund-raising drive among alumni and influential friends of the Navy.

Oil Men Hold Picnic At Golf Course Mon.

The third annual picnic of the Central Missouri Oil Mens Club for members and wives will be held at the Country View Golf Course Monday, Aug. 13, at 6:30 p. m. A social evening, with various games and items of entertainment, will follow the dinner. Anyone wishing to play golf prior to the dinner should be at the course between 4 and 5 p.m. Prospective members are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Big Race Schedule For Fair

Top Racing Car Drivers to Open Week of Thrills Here Next Weekend

The nation's top-ranking big car race drivers roar into action next Saturday and Sunday in a pair of speed programs inaugurating the biggest and most diversified program of motor racing in the 54-year history of the Missouri State Fair.

Six racing events are on tap, with the second annual Missouri Futurity for big cars, a 100-mile late model stock car - sports car grind, the Missouri Modified Stock Car Sweepstakes and AMA-sanctioned motorcycle sprints rounding out the schedule.

For the moment interest is centered in the two inaugural programs in which leading contenders in the current International Motor Contest Assn. point scramble will contest the present leader and 1955 champion, Bobby Grim of Indianapolis.

Don Hutchinson and Bill Chennault, both of Kansas City and in second and third places, respectively, along with Jud Larson of Austin, Tex., now moving up fast after invading the smokepaths at mid-season, pace more than a score of rapid cars and intrepid drivers.

Race entries received by Fair Secretary W. H. Ritzenthaler indicate that more than half of the cars will be powered by the same type of Offenhauser engine used in record holding cars at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway.

An added attraction will be the appearance of Miss Fay Taylour of Dublin, Ireland, one of the few women who have invaded a field heretofore reserved for men.

She'l appear here at the wheel of one of the powerful Offies, having spent he past several years in racing on the fastest racks of he British Commonwealth — from England's famed Brooklands oval to Australia and New Zealand.

Babe Ruth League Schedule Is Changed

The Babe Ruth League has made a change in its schedule of games so the season will end this week.

Deadlock In World Tourney

Thomson, Burkemo, Kroll Into 3-Way Tie; Middlecoff, Wininger Stumble

CHICAGO, Aug. 11 (AP)—The pressure third-round of the $101,200 "World" golf tourney took its toll at Tam O'Shanter today as U. S. Open champion Gary Middlecoff faded with a borrowed driver and three players shot into a 54-hole tie at 207, nine-under-par.

The trio deadlocked for the top spot in the chase for golf's greatest first prize, $50,000, included Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, winner of the last three British opens; Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich., the 1953 National PGA champion, and Ted Kroll, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., 1956 PGA runner-up.

Burkemo was one of five players to stroke six under par 66's in today's play on Tam O'Shanter's par 36-36—72 layout which offered soft greens and good scores for early starters and then got tougher as brisk winds and the sun dried out the course.

Kroll and Thompson each came up with 71's to share the lead at 207 with Burkemo.

The latter two played in the closing three-some with Middlecoff, the 36-hole co-leader with Bo Wininger, who wrecked his 7-year-old driver on the practice tee today and had to start with an extra driver provided by Wininger. Middlecoff wobbled home with a 75, even though he holed an 18-footer for a birdie three on the 18th.

That left Middlecoff, who shared the halfway lead with Wininger at 9-under-par 135, bracketed with nine other players at 210, three strokes off the pace.

Wininger, who also felt the pressure of this big maneuvering round, collapsed to a 76 and a six-way tie for 22nd at 211.

There will be plenty of heat on three leaders, however, in tomorrow's closing round with no fewer than 21 players only three strokes apart.

Knotted at 208, one stroke behind, were three players—Marty Furgol, Bill Casper and Jerry Barber. Five more were deadlocked at 209, including Mike Souchak, Fred Hawkins, Jay Hebert, Johnny Palmer and Bill Nary.

The big contingent notched at 210 included, besides Middlecoff, Ed Furgol, Chick Harbert, Doug Ford, Bob Toski, Tony Holguin, Ed Oliver, Jack Fleck, Herman Scharlau and Peter Cooper.

Along with Burkemo, 66 rounds were shot by Ed and Marty Furgol, Harbert and Al Balding.

In the concurrent women's professional "World," Betty Jameson, silver-thatched veteran from San Antonio, Tex., moved into the third round lead by two strokes over Patty Berg and Marlene Bauer Hagge. Miss Jameson's nifty 73 gave her a 54-hole total of 222 in the chase for the gals $6,000 top prize.

In the "World" men's and women's amateur divisions, Ward Wettlaufer of Buffalo, N. Y., and Anne Richardson, 20-year-old blonde from Columbus, Ohio, retained their leads. Wettlaufer, golf captain at Hamilton College, Clinton, N. Y., banged a 73 for an even-par total of 216. Miss Richardson slipped to an 81, but her 54-hole aggregate was 230.

Country Club Golfers Play at Countryview In Dual Match Today

Reciprocal golf matches between the Sedalia Country Club and Sedalia Countryview golf course open today with the first 18-hole match at Countryview.

It will be something new for the Country Club team, which is unaccustomed to playing sand greens. On the other hand, the Countryview golfers have their games styled for play on sand.

The second meeting of the two clubs will be held on the Country Club course next Sunday.

Sedalia BJ's End Regular Play Tonight

Shoot for 2nd Half Season Title Here Against Marshall

The Sedalia Ban Johnson team will close its regular season schedule tonight on the Liberty Park diamond in a game with the Marshall Blue Jays, which is anticipated to clinch the second half season B. J. league title for the Sedalians. Game time is 8 o'clock.

A victory tonight would give the locals their 12th in a row—quite a remarkable win skein—and conclude their second half play with a 13-1 record. Their lone defeat in the second half was administered by Boonville, 12-2, soon after the opening of the last half.

Boonville, with only two losses to date, is the only team in the league which would have a chance of matching Sedalia's record should the locals lose to Marshall.

However, an expected victory by Sedalia will throw them into a playoff with the Brookfield Bombers for the 1956 league championship. This would be a five-game affair to be played after the regular season play is over.

Sedalia pitching in tonight's contest will be handled by either Ken Buhlig or Elroy Burton with Larry Mines as catcher. Marshall will have Buck Peters or Jim Patchett on the mound.

Absentee

battle, Edward V. Long had been leading Harry E. Kemp, his closest rival, by a vote of 937 to 886. The absentee ballots gave Long 38 extra votes, while Kemp collected only 21. On the state level, however, Kemp had a decisive lead over all contenders, so that the battle was already over.

As for the United States Senatorship fight, only four votes separated Herbert Douglas, with 468 votes and William McKinley Thomas, with 464. The absentee ballots gave Douglas four more votes and Thomas only one more. But it made no difference, because on the state level the real battle was between Douglas and Albert E. Schoenbeck. The state contest was so close that the decision still rests on the result of the final absentee ballot count.

Where does your money go when you buy a gallon of gasoline?

Here are four important places!

1 TAXES

Good as they are, our roads are getting better every day. And you are responsible for that improvement! Every time you car, truck and bus owners buy a gallon of gasoline a major part of the direct taxes included in the price represents your positive support and contribution to the expanding highway system of which your state is so proud. Exactly how much do you contribute? For example, in mid-Missouri a gallon of STANDARD RED CROWN Gasoline typically costs you only 21 9/10 cents excluding direct taxes. Added to that is a 3-cent state gasoline tax used entirely for roads and 3 cents more for the current federal tax. These direct taxes total 6 cents per gallon—equal to more than one-fourth the cost of the gasoline alone. Cost of gasoline plus taxes—27 9/10 cents!*

2 BETTER PRODUCTS

Included in the 21 9/10 cents you actually pay for the gasoline itself is the cost of constant and dramatic product improvements. Here is a case in point—during 1955 and 1956 we made further octane quality improvements. High octane gasoline makes possible the power and performance of the high compression engines in modern automobiles. These octane increases alone have added about 22 million dollars per year to our continuing operating costs. And is gasoline reasonably priced? We believe you'll agree it is when you realize that in America today an hour's pay will buy more than half again as much gasoline, excluding direct taxes, as it would fifteen years ago.

3 WAGES

Our portion of the 21 9/10 cents you actually pay for a gallon of gasoline helps pay the wages and salaries of more than 51,000 members of the Standard Oil Family . . . people like yourself who have had to meet rising living costs. In the last 15 years Standard Oil salaries, wages and benefits, on the average, have increased about 170%. General wage increases of slightly over 4 per cent and 6 per cent in 1955 and 1956 increased our costs about 28 million dollars annually. Important as these wages are to each Standard Oiler they are also tremendously important to the economy of all Mid-America where most Standard people live and contribute to the business, social and cultural life of the community.

4 SERVICE

Your independent Standard Dealer knows that his position is just as competitive as ours . . . that he must meet competition to attract and hold business and at the same time cover all his costs and earn a fair profit. His mark-up is also included in the 21 9/10 cents per gallon. And in the few cents competition allows, he supports himself and family, pays his taxes and his help, pays for the many services he offers his customers. Compare his efficiency and friendly, extra service with that of any retailer you do business with.

*This figure does not include the Municipal Gasoline Tax imposed in certain communities.

What Is His Name?

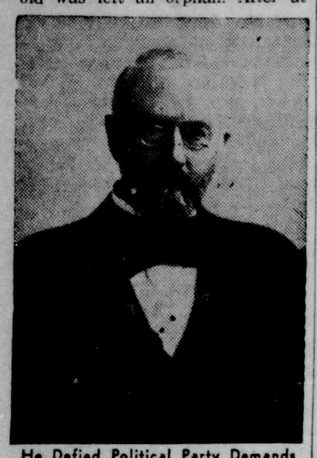
US Senator Who Wrote 13th Amendment to Abolish Slaves

By State Historical Society

As a member of the 1861 State Convention he helped keep Missouri in the Union and while U.S. senator from Missouri he was the author of the Thirteenth Amendment to the Constitution abolishing slavery and advocated Negro suffrage which formed the basis of the Fifteenth Amendment. Do you know his name?

1. What was his background?

A. Of southern parentage, he was born near Danville, Virginia, November 16, 1826. He moved with his parents to Lincoln County, Missouri, in 1832, and when nine years old was left an orphan. After attending schools in Lincoln and Pike counties he taught school, studied law, and was admitted to the bar in Pike County in 1848. From 1848 to 1861 he practiced law in Louisiana, Missouri.



He Defied Political Party Demands for the Cause of "Impartial Justice"

2. How did he begin his public career?

A. He served from 1848 to 1850 and from 1856 to 1858 as a representative in the State Legislature where he was active in supporting legislation granting State aid to railroads and took a prominent part in framing the general banking act of 1857.

He was a Douglas delegate to the 1860 Charleston and Baltimore National Democratic conventions and in 1856 and 1860 he was a presidential elector.

3. What were his beliefs about secession in the 1861 State Convention?

A. He was a states' rights Democrat, but when the issue was drawn in 1861, he strongly opposed secession in Missouri and was an influential Union delegate to the State Convention. He opposed coercion of the seceded states and blamed the abolitionists of the North for having provoked the trouble. The fall of Fort Sumter and the call for troops, however, changed his opinion as to coercion and he raised a brigade of militia which saw four months service.

4. What were his accomplishments in the U.S. Senate?

A. In 1862 he was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Truston Polk as U.S. Senator and was elected for a six-year term to the same office in 1863. In the Senate he was the author of the Thirteenth Amendment, advocated Negro suffrage, and effected the reimbursement from the Federal treasury of Missouri's war expenditures.

He found it hard to reach a decision in the impeachment trial of President Andrew Johnson and harder still to vote against his party. But when a telegram demanding that he vote for conviction came from St. Louis he replied: "Say to my friends that I have sworn to do impartial justice according to law and conscience and I will try to do it like an honest man." He voted "not guilty." For this act he was hanged in effigy by Missouri radicals and failed to be re-elected to the Senate.

5. What did he do after he left the Senate?

A. He practiced law in St. Louis, served as assistant U.S. district attorney to prosecute the whiskey ring in St. Louis in 1875, as president of the Chicago National Republican Convention in 1884, and was a delegate to the Pan-American Congress in 1889. He retired from practice in 1889 and moved to Washington, D.C., where he lived until his death April 12, 1913.

6. What was his name?

A. John Brooks Henderson.

Dr. C. E. Hix In Pulpit Sunday At Blackwater

By Mrs. M. R. Gillespie

BLACKWATER—Dr. C. E. Hix, Fayette, preached at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. He was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Griffith.

Miss Mattie Adams, Miss Annis Davis of near Marshall, Mrs. William Davis and daughter, Marshall, and Mrs. Eva Heim were guests Wednesday afternoon of Mrs. G. W. Larkin.

Mrs. R. D. Landon, Jr., was able to return home Saturday from St. Mary's Hospital, Jefferson City, where she had undergone surgery the week before. W. A. Bagby who has been a patient at St. Joseph Hospital, Boonville, for several weeks is some improved. Mrs. Harry Root returned home from St. Joseph Hospital, Boonville, where she had been a patient for several days. M. R. Gillespie, who underwent surgery, at St. Joseph Hospital, Boonville, Monday, is improved.

Mrs. Ruth Shouse returned home Thursday from Independence where she had been a guest in the home of Mrs. Ada Houk.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sharp and daughters, Judy and Joy, Kansas City, spent the weekend with her father, A. J. Widel, Mrs. Widel, and daughters.

Mr. and Mrs. Bus Corbin and four daughters went to Muncie, Kan., Saturday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Allen. Mr. Corbin returned home Sunday but Mrs. Corbin remained for a longer visit.

A 200-pound hog will produce five pounds of spare ribs.

MAN ON A CROSS—A curious crowd, paying one dollar each for the privilege, gazes at Tagore, a 27-year-old Mexican Indian. He was nailed to a cross for his performance in a Reynosa, Mexico, bullfight ring. After being moved to a downtown street, he remained on the cross for 46 hours, allegedly without food or water. At the end of his ordeal, he was said to be weak, but otherwise in good shape. The stunt was denounced in the Reynosa churches the previous Sunday, and a comparatively small crowd was on hand for the nailing. Tagore claims that his only competitor in the act bled to death after a similar performance some months ago.

Roll tiny squares of cream cheese into finely chopped salted nuts. Serve as a flavor foil for a sweet fruit gelatin dessert.

Easy supper: pan-fried cube steaks with chilled potato salad and crisp greens. Serve fruit and cookies for dessert.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT

In Combination With the Sunday Morning Capital

Second Section | Sedalia, Missouri | Sunday, Aug. 12, 1956

NOTE TO BUSY PARENTS: You can save lots of time and money after you've read all the wonderful information inside by also taking a good look at the fine offers and bargains announced here by Sedalia firms.

It's time, too, to start thinking seriously about such items as school supplies, new fall clothes, class schedules, bus schedules and who the teachers will be. The Democrat-Capital is pleased to present this special outstate Back-to-School Edition with information of all kinds for the young people returning to the classroom. And Mom and Pop might find it mighty useful, too.

. . . So, Come On, Climb Aboard for the Land of Books and Blackboards!

Calendar Is Listed—

Knob Noster Announces Dates For New Pupils to Register

Registration dates for the Knob Noster public schools are as follows: freshmen and sophomores: Thursday, Aug. 16, 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; juniors and seniors: Friday, Aug. 17, 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.; grades 1 to 4, inclusive: Monday, Aug. 27, 9 a.m. to noon; grades 5 to 8, inclusive: Wednesday, Aug. 29, 9 a.m. to noon. Buses will not run for registration.

School opens Wednesday, Aug. 29 at 8:45 a.m. with a half-day session. The following schedule will be followed as nearly as possible during the year:

Vacations: Labor Day, Monday, Sept. 3; District Teachers' Meeting, Oct. 5; State Teachers' Meeting, Nov. 8, 9; Thanksgiving, Nov. 22, 23; Christmas Vacation, Dec. 22 to Dec. 30, inclusive; and Good Friday, April 19.

Knob Noster Basketball Tournament, Jan. 9 to 12.

Semester ends, Jan. 11.

Baccalaureate, Sunday, May 12.

Commencement, Thursday, May 16.

School closes, Friday, May 17.

The elementary faculty and the grades they will teach are as follows:

Mrs. Mary Rhinehart, principal, and teacher of Fine Arts; Mrs. Virginia Campbell, grade 1; Miss Agnes Hardy, grade 1; Mrs. Oma McKeehan, grade 1; Mrs. Thelma Blaylock, grade 2; Mrs. Catherine Tyler, grade 2; Miss Laura Taylor, grade 3; Mrs. Addie Zink, grade 3.

Miss Eileen Kendrick, grade 4; Mrs. Vivian Norman, grade 4; Mrs. Elaine Breon, grade 5; Mrs. Pearl Swope, grades 5 and 6; Mrs. May Bartlett, grade 6; Mrs. Itylene Parrott, grade 7; Mrs. Elizabeth Peterman, grades 7 and 8; and Mrs. Margaret Gregory, grade 8.

New teachers in this group are Miss Eileen Kendrick, Knob Noster, who taught Hope Dale R-7 School in Pettis County last year; Mrs. Pearl Boosinger Swope, Warrensburg, who taught Oak Grove School in Johnson County last year; and Mrs. Elizabeth Peterman, Knob Noster, who taught Bryson R-7 School in Pettis County last year.

The high school faculty will be composed of: James E. Jageman, superintendent and teacher of science; Howard Martin, principal, and teacher of mathematics; Mrs. Eloise Higgins, English; Ernest Elgert, music; Dwight Hensley, coach and physical education; Lee Walters, industrial arts; Mrs. Hazel Gatschet, commerce; and Mrs. Jacque Peterson, home economics.

New members on the high school faculty are Dwight Hensley, Waynesville, Mo., who graduated from CMSC this spring; Lee Walters, Warrensburg, also a recent graduate of CMSC; and Mrs. Jacque Peterson, Warrensburg, who formerly taught at Hughes, Ark.; and Mrs. Hazel Gatschet, Windsor, who formerly taught at Shawnee Mound School in Henry County.

Mrs. Gloria Skillman Coleman resigned recently, leaving an unfilled vacancy in the social studies department.

The returning lunchroom workers are Mrs. Ruth Grandestaff, manager; Mrs. Elsie Fockler, bookkeeper; and Mrs. Otis Rittman. The new helper will be Mrs. Peggy Swearingen.

Bus drivers back from last year are Kelly Neitzert, Ralph Epple, Bill Welch, and Ermile Wharton. New drivers are Galen Chick and Bernie Clark.

Ole John Peterson is returning as custodian of the high school, and Arch Vogler will serve in that capacity in the elementary school.

Mrs. Juanita Lane is returning as secretary to the superintendent.

Improvements during the summer include construction of a baseball field on the elementary playground, re-decoration of much of the high school building including the gymnasium, and the purchase of two new buses. Plans are made and work started on an eight-bus garage to be located west of the elementary building. The contract for this building was let to the Vaughn Construction of Knob Noster.

A recent interim audit, completed by Sterling B. Stage, CPA, Windsor, shows the district in sound financial condition and ready for a new school year.

Windsor Schools Open Sessions On September 4

The Windsor Schools will open for a half day session Sep. 4 at 9 o'clock. The first session will be devoted to completing enrollments, forming classes and making assignments. Regular classroom work will begin on Wednesday morning.

The faculty is complete with the exception of an art teacher. Mrs. Cora Elliott will again teach mathematics in the high school after a year's absence. Mrs. Lois Earp is our new librarian and will teach some junior high English. The other members of the faculty are the same as last year.

A number of our teachers have attended summer school during the summer and will no doubt have many new ideas to use in their work this year.

The offices of the superintendent and principal will be open beginning Tuesday, Aug. 21, and each day during the remainder of the month for the enrollment of junior-senior high school students. The juniors and seniors are to enroll Aug. 21 through Aug. 25. The freshmen and sophomores will enroll beginning Aug. 27 through Thursday, Aug. 30. The seventh and eighth grades will enroll Friday, Aug. 31.

The buildings have been cleaned, the floors re-finished and a number of the rooms have been re-decorated during the summer.

Aids for Children

A world atlas and a good dictionary are important school helps for the youngsters where reference material is limited. However, many encyclopedia are priced within the reach of average-income families and should be made available for the young fry—when possible.

New Fashion Arithmetic for Fall

Kate Greenaway's

Dress + Jumper Ensemble

There's a brand new classic in the fall curriculum. More than a dress. More than a jumper, it's really a multiple wardrobe, summed up in two pretty parts: dress alone, or plus its tabbed, box-pleated jumper; jumper alone, or plus favorite blouses and sweaters. The dress, in stripe-topped chambray with a hidden pocket in its skirt seam (Below). (Left) Jumper, crush-resistant cotton in red over a grey dress, or navy over red. Just one of the exciting new styles from Kate Greenaway's new Classroom Couture.

For sizes 3 to 6x, about $8.98
7 to 12, about $10.98

Students Give Luggage More Wear, Tear

Luggage owned by a student gets more wear and tear than that of the average traveler, with the exception of business people whose work takes them away frequently.

For the four-year round of back and forth travel, the student should consider purchase of new luggage from the service angle — and check for strong bindings, well-made hardware, sturdy, comfortable handles and a covering which will take hard knocks and slipshod storage.

For girls, the usual three piece starter set is a necessity.

Additional useful pieces are the hat-and-shoe case and the round hatbox. Add to this, if school is far from home, a useful trunk in which to send bedding, books, curtains, etc.

Boys of high school or college age need a minimum of a suiter and companion bag. 'Suiters' are designed to hold from one to four suits the 'companion' is an unfitted, matching suitcase useful for accessories, weekend or overnight visits.

For more clothing, the end-opening wardrobe is equipped with several hangers and a section for flat packing.

Favorite colors, according to the Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers of America, are ginger and suntan in that order.

'Young' Eyes Need Check by Optometrist

A wise student or conscientious parent will have 'young' eyes checked regularly by professional optical people — doctors, opticians, optometrists — before school starts and during the school term. He should also tell his oculist about studying conditions that may be unfavorable to the eyes and get the proper advice from him.

The eyes are the most powerful yet most fragile human organ, but most people too often neglect them. Before they realize it their eyes are weakened permanently and they're stuck with thick glasses.

Check the glare of the light under which your child studies at home, and you will have taken the first step toward guarding the future strength and health of his eyes.

Studying is the main thing at school. But eyes are sensitive and need care, too. Don't strain them boning up for those exams. If you burn the midnight oil be sure to have good light.

FINGER PAINTING

Finger painting is fun for preschool children and develops their interest in art. Mothers will find that it is a favorite occupation for older children, too, for after school hours.

There are many inexpensive sets available. Or you can make paints at home by adding vegetable coloring to thin starch. They can be applied on cardboard, wrapping paper, or writing paper.

HEAD OF THE CLASS — Educated sweaters go back to school this fall, in new miracle yarns which can be washed in a jiffy, dried without blocking and retain their shape and color. Pictured are a boy's tur neck pullover in cable stitch and a girl's pebble-stitch cardigan with brass buttons, both in the new bulky style, both in tycora, newest in the synthetic yarn lineup, requiring minimum care.

Spruced Up Campus Shirts Take on New Hues and Styles

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Fashions come and go, but in the life of a college girl, the shirt and the sweater are permanent. Whoever heard of a co-ed without them?

But while the shirt may be a fixture, it doesn't retain the same old' look year in and year out. Each season sees changes, just as there have been enormous changes in sweater styles in recent seasons.

It was so long ago that shirts (on the campus, at least) were just exactly that. They were copied from men's shirts and sometimes the girls wore men's shirts which they bought or borrowed. Usually, the shirt was topped with a nondescript cardigan, something a little out at the elbows.

All of that has changed. The look on the campus this fall will be a spruce one. We demonstrate here with two shirts (both budget-priced) that offer smart styling and high fashion colors.

Satin striped broadcloth shirt (left) is in autumnal shades of bottle and celadon green on white. There's an Italian wing collar.

Tile motif is printed (right) in subtle shades of golden - hued greens and yellow blended with navy blue. This shirt is in a silky textured cotton, has three-quarter length sleeves with French cuffs.

Several Programs Of Educational Value Presented

In the interest of promoting the "theatre of the mind" CBS Radio has reactivated its "Workshop" series, and spotlights each week some new idea in drama.

In the strictly educational field, CBS Radio offers "Invitation to Learning," now in its 16th year on the air, under the guidance of Dr. Lyman Bryson who, together with two distinguished men of letters, discusses classic literary works each week.

Likewise educational in its appeal is the "Adventures in Science" series, which presents weekly interviews with renowned guests on current developments in science.

CBS Radio also presents a wide variety of programs whose cultural entertainment values can be considered educational in their benefits.

Such musical treats as the Sunday afternoon broadcasts of the New York Philharmonic Symphony during the winter season are followed by the "World Music Festivals" — visits to the outstanding summer music festivals in Europe and the United States.

The news and public affairs feature on CBS Radio presents outstanding reporters and news analysts in regular broadcasts of history as it happens, together with frequent special coverage of speeches and events of national and international importance.

In a lighter vein, "Music on a Sunday Afternoon" provides entertainment for relaxed listening. Programs such as the "Edgar Bergen Hour", "Our Miss Brooks", "The Bing Crosby Show" offer a high quality of entertainment that has delighted millions over the years.

New School Coat Fashions Have Both Full, Fitted Lines; Hoods Are In Style

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Major investment in any back-to-school wardrobe is a coat which will see the young fry smartly through a long, hard season, from snowballs to Sunday School.

Mom will be wise, therefore, if she examines fabric labels carefully, selects a sturdy wool or a proven blend that will stand the gaff, dark enough not to show soil easily, cut on the simple lines that always are best for school girls.

This fall there are some new wrinkles in the school coat line-up. Lines are narrower than last year, usually sloping gently from the shoulders, slightly wider at the hemline. Dark, rich colors are the tops, with brown and black combinations high in favor. There's a dark chocolate brown that is particularly good in classic alpaca coats, while dark muted plaids also are important.

The new coats may be either fitted or loose, both styles being equally smart. Linings take on new interest this year, also. There are many milium linings, giving all-weather comfort. Sometimes a contrasting lining is used, with a scarf to match.

Hooded coats are all over the place for winter, as the younger set catches up with the sports-car trend.

Chesterfields, reefers and the perennial boy-coats are still top favorites for the school crowd, who are inclined to like their fashions classic.

Child Foot Health Month Sponsored By National Council

The National Foot Health Council is again sponsoring Child Foot Health Month during September to teach children the importance of better foot care, good posture, and how to walk. The slogan is "Foot Care Should Commence in Childhood."

During Child Foot Health Month school physicians in many states will include the examination of the feet in the fall health check-up. Foot examinations are required by law in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and California, and many other states include foot health education for children.

During the summer months children's feet grow rapidly at play and the proper development of their feet requires new leather school shoes fitted large enough to provide for the summer time foot growth. Children's feet should be re-measured every 1 to 3 months, and fitted with correct size shoes and hosiery at all times. Outgrown footwear is the cause of bone and joint defects and deformities of the feet, legs, and spine.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Properly - supervised athletic competition for both boys and girls, helps build good health, sound relationship and a sense of fair play. That's why physical education is a required course in practically every school in the country.

Grownups Are Going Back to School Too

'Round the nation, grown-ups too, are dusting off notebooks and readying themselves for classes!

About 35 million adults each year go back-to-school for various types of adult education. Of this number, between five and seven million are enrolled in public school programs for adult learning.

Nation-wide, the states of California, New York, Pennsylvania and Michigan offer the best developed and most comprehensive public programs.

Schools Open Sept. 4—

Versailles Plans to Move Into New High School Soon

Much work has been done this summer in preparation for Sept. 4, the date when classroom work opens in Morgan County R-II schools. In addition to regular administration and maintenance, there has been much work done in anticipation of a move from the present high school building into a new high school building being constructed on Highway 52 west of Versailles.

When the new high school building for the district is complete, the present high school building will be converted to upper-grade elementary. Four new classrooms have been partitioned in the old high school study hall. These will be used as home rooms for elementary sections in the new situation.

Textbooks are being sorted, needs listed, and orders to fill needs being forwarded to various companies. Earlier in the summer books were gathered from the 13 elementary schools and sorted according to grade, subject, and company for better utilization of material on hand.

In addition to routine maintenance the annual custodial work of waxing floors of elementary and high school buildings, keeping lawns mowed, and various other custodial crew work has been pursued. Repainting classrooms and waxing floors at the elementary school at Gravois Mills was accomplished.

All summer work finally adds up to opening school Sept. 4, 1956, with one 12-teacher elementary school at Versailles, one four-teacher elementary school at Gravois Mills, 11 one-teacher schools throughout the district, and one 13-teacher high school at Versailles. It is expected sometime during the first semester to rearrange the system to one elementary school (grades 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6) at Gravois Mills; two elementary schools (one with grades 1, 2, 3, and 4; one with grades 5, 6, 7 and 8) at Versailles; one one-room elementary school (all eight grades) at Versailles, and one high school at Versailles.

Teachers and tentative assignments for opening in these various classrooms are as follows: Twelve-teacher elementary school at Versailles — Nadine McDonald, first grade; Donna Ward, first grade; Emma Hart, second grade; Ruth Bond, second grade; Ann Kidwell, third grade; Adelia Hutchison, fourth grade; Mary Pyle, fifth grade; Wilma Lampton, sixth grade; Helen Bass, seventh grade; Bonnelle White, eighth grade; and Ruby Cox, special education.

Four-teacher elementary school at Gravois Mills—Margaret Howard, first and second grades; Virginia Mastin, third and fourth grades; Susie Thurston, fifth and sixth grades; and Eunice Blacksten, seventh and eighth grades.

Eleven one-teacher elementary classrooms—Ruth Warren, Washington; Alma Lehman, Prairie Valley; Agnes Jenkins, Sunnyside; Jane Campbell, Marvin; Arrena Campbell, St. Martin; Arleen Kidwell, Akinsville; Inez Stevens, Excelsior; Paddy Kidwell, Glensted; Harriette Jones, Salmon; Cloie Hite, Ritchie; and Grace Nagel, Ball. The elementary principal is Kern Etter.

Twelve-teacher high school—Andrew White, vocational agriculture; Lloyd Haworth, physical education and coach; Estella Moon, vocational home economics; Maurice LaRue, music; Lucy Hays, commerce; LaVera Lehman, social studies; Doris Lading, English; Sarah Roth, history and English; Johanna McDonald, science; Ann Marriott, mathematics; Ethel Kidwell, English; and Bruce Hart, journalism, speech and dramatics, high school geography, government, and Missouri history. If an industrial arts teacher could be obtained this program would be inaugurated into the high school curriculum this year. The high school principal is Dickey Simpson.

Junior goes back-to-school with a grown-up air in a wool-flannel "Ivy League" suit; matching cap features a belt-buckle at the back!

'Ivy League' Are Keywords For Students

The keywords in Junior back to school styles this year, are Ivy League — the magic words that have given the young man of the family his new "grown up" look.

When the youngster heads back to the classroom, he'll be attired in a dress-up flannel suit, or an Ivy League sport jacket and slacks, probably topped by a scaled-down version of the adult duffer jacket. In every phase of the junior wardrobe, styles and idea in design have been borrowed from adult fashions.

In more and more sections of the country, the days of sloppy jeans and shirt are dead and departed—a happy state of affairs which has probably been helped by the theory of some school authorities who are tending to link juvenile misbehavior with untidy dress habits.

A favorite choice for junior back to school suits will be Cambridge gray wool flannel, Ivy League style of course, in many cases with matching eton cap. Other good colors in medium weight flannels and worsteds are light tan and gray-blue.

Boys' sportsjackets for fall strongly reflect the men's wear trend toward the colorful blazer stripes. They're bold and bright, in color combinations of wine, red and gray, lemon and gray, brown and blue, olive green and khaki.

They also reflect the trend toward lighterweight fabrics, so that medium weight wool worsteds and tweeds are favored. Top shades for slacks are Cambridge or banker's gray, and tan.

Wool fleece, melton and covert are the most popular fabrics for junior outer jackets. Style features include double breasted closings, leather fastenings, concealed hoods and large patch pockets. Favored colors are bright red, olive green, tan, blue, and red and green plaids.

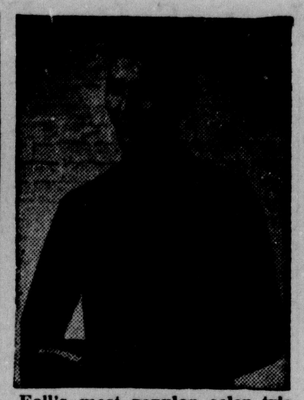
Tipton Will Have New School Facilities For 1956-57 Term

Opening date for Moniteau District School of Tipton is indefinite since the new high school is still under construction. It is hoped by school officials that classes will start soon after Sept. 4 and not later than Sept. 10.

New teachers employed by Moniteau district R-VI are: Wilbur Helle, elementary principal at Fortuna; Marie Hildebrand, elementary teacher at Fortuna; Mrs. Gladys Billingsley, high school commerce teacher; Mrs. Joan Powers, English I and II; Joseph Noynaert, senior science.

A new addition to the Tipton school is a combination cafeteria and play area.



Fall's most popular color trio blue, maize and brown are featured in the vertical stripings of this smartly tailored sport shirt. Made of comfortable cotton knit, it is smart for sport or classroom wear.

Result of 'White House' Meet---

Delegates Will Represent Pettis at Regional Meeting

One of the outcomes of the White House Conference on Education, held in Washington, D. C. last winter, was a recommendation that state representatives to the national meeting return and carry on similar conferences within their states.

Missouri's representatives to the national meeting have set up seven regional meetings for Missouri, one in each teachers' college district and one each in Kansas City and St. Louis. The regional meeting for Central Missouri District will be held at Warrensburg on Sept. 20. Each of the 21 countis in the District has been invited to send ten delegates to the Warrensburg meeting. These delegates will represent various professions, occupations and walks of life.

The ten delegates chosen to represent Pettis county are as follows: P. A. Sillers, supervisor of the Sedalia elementary schools; the Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor of Broadway Presbyterian Church; Mrs. Howard Gwinn, president of the Sedalia District Parent - Teacher Council; Mrs. Bob Kahrs, retail business and PTA leader; Paul S. McKee, superintendent of schools at Smithton; Robert E. McCurdy, farmer and school board member; F. B. Van Dyke, truck line owner and president of county board of education; Mrs. Charles Sparks, homemaker and former teacher; William P. McCune, Farm Bureau and school board member; and C. F. Scotten, county school superintendent.

The leader of the Warrensburg regional meeting will be Mrs. C. W. Detjen of Webster Groves, a Missouri delegate to the national White House Conference on Education.

Crushed macaroons make a delicious topping for ice cream.

Five Pettis Schools Get Triple A Rate

Each year the schools of the state are checked for classification by means of a score card of standards set up by the State Department of Education. Five Pettis County rural schools received the coveted AAA rating, the highest standard offered.

These schools were Striped College No. 29, High Point No. 30, Sunny Side No. 33, Quisenberry No. 53, and Bothwell No. 105. Mosby School No. 27 received a AA rating, and the remaining rural schools were granted class A rating. There were no rural schools which failed to get minimum approval.

Three of the six-director elementary districts received AA rating, these being Districts R-I, R-VII, and R-XII. Two of the six-director elementary districts were unclassified, one because it maintained only an eight-month term, and the other because it was necessary to employ a teacher with less than the required amount of college credit in order to fill a vacancy.

All of the high school districts except Sedalia were Class A schools. Sedalia again qualified for AAA rating, which indicates outstanding faculty, school plant, curriculum, etc.

A timely choice—his 10-K gold-filled, shock-resistant watch and his handsome imported Shetland Glen plaid sport coat. The sport coat is olive gray, a versatile new shade.

Coeds Now Take to Softer Directoire Look on Campus

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Smart coeds will go back to school this fall looking much more elegant and feminine than they have in lo, these many years.

The new "fair lady" look of fashion seems to have accomplished what the combined efforts of teachers, parents and fashion writers have failed to do until now—take college girls out of blue jeans and into feminine clothes.

Of course there will be some diehards, especially among Eastern women's colleges, but the majority of college girls throughout the country will welcome a return to flattering ladylike clothes this fall.

The Directoire look is important in campus styles as it is throughout the entire fall fashion lineup. You identify it immediately in the placement of the waistline, high under the bosom; in the slender skirt animated with panels and easy drapery; in the new dimension of hats, the tapered-toe shoes, the prevalence of hoods.

Being in constant touch with the fashion moods of the young, St. Louis designers spotlight the new romantic feeling in their collections of junior styles for fall. There's a new softness and elegance to dresses and suits, a new feminine air to everything except strictly casual sports clothes.

In the last category the "Ivy League" look is the thing, apparent in separates and coordinates with styling borrowed from the boys. It is identified by the narrow-lapel box jackets and blazers. Bermuda shorts with buckles in back, dark striped boy shirts and even caps.

LADYLIKE LOOK — Directoire silhouette in wool jersey with contrasting jewel-trimmed bolero. A junior fashion from St. Louis.

NEW CAMPUS LOOK — Empire costume in men's wear flannel, with high - waisted dress and brief velvet-collared jacket.

HOODED CLASSIC — Tops with the campus crowd is the clutch coat with hood-collar in cashmere weave; push - up sleeves.

Fall Sport Jackets Are Highlighted By Blazer-Stripes

Ivy League type blazer-stripes are a major fashion highlight in fall sportsjackets. Men are no longer saddling themselves with the burden of heavyweight clothing throughout fall and winter, and lighterweight fabrics are becoming strongly favored for comfort and reasons of practical appeal.

Some of the most popular choices in sportsjackets will be those featuring a vertical stripe in color combinations of deep red and Cambridge gray, gray and olive green, or medium tan and smoke blue. Most important fabrics will include medium weight wool worsted and soft, lightweight tweed.

A new fabric which is destined for high fashion significance in sport jackets, is a knitted wool worsted jersey which has a soft, tweed appearance, is light in weight and which steadfastly refuses to wrinkle despite all kinds of rough treatment.

There's only one answer—and that's the "Century" shirt with the collar that won't wrinkle, curl or wilt, ever. And in line with college men's fashion preference, the collar is being cut shorter this fall.

ABOVE: A horizontally-striped dress shirt with solid color collar and cuffs is the right answer for a boy's school days.

College Man Pays New Attention to Shoes; Five Styles Popular

This year, the college man—long a style leader in the area of men's apparel—has turned his attention to his feet.

The new attention to shoes is part of the general trend towards th "natural look!" But this semester there is a slight "continental" flair to the styling of both college apparel and shoes.

A shoe wardrobe for the well-dressed college man will include the following:

1. A plain-toed slip-on with high tongue in the Italian manner.
2. A slip-on moccasin — with a slightly tapered toe.
3. A wing-tip—either in conventional model or with two eyelets.
4. A one or two-eyelet plain-toed blucher.
5. The one and two-eyelet blucher, the gored moccasin, the slim Italian-type slip-on, in leathers ranging from glove-soft cowhide to crushed calf, are also being worn by campus leaders.

Shoes for boys are the spit 'n' image of Dad's. Tassel moccasins, wing-tips, U-wings and plain-toe bluchers top the list. Especially favored by older boys are the oxford and the gored slip-on.

These are available in smooth and suede leathers, with rugged leather soles designed to keep growing young feet happy and healthy for the school year ahead.

New Style Knit Sport Shirts Are Item For School Wardrobe

No young man's school wardrobe is complete without a well-rounded selection of knit sport shirts.

And — the choice for the new term is terrific! There are horizontal narrow stripes, wide vertical ones, heather-type yarns and bright combinations of solid colors with striped trims.

The wonderful variety of collar styles and yoke trims is inspired by the Italian influence, though the convertible opened-or-buttoned collar—and the classic crew neck are included in most collections.

Waist Length, Short Coats Rise to New Popularity for Fall

Waist length and fingertip length jackets and short overcoats will rise to a new high level of popularity this fall.

In the waist length, or "Ike" jackets, top honors go to the zip-front models in lightweight worsted fabrics, with check and shadow plaid designs. An off-beat model which could make a big impression is designed in gray and white herringbone tweed with a bright fire-engine red leather lining.

Top fabrics in the finger-tip length jackets will be covert, tweed, flannel, gabardine and melton. Favored styles are those with double breasted front, wide collar and leather peg fastenings, in olive green, light tan and medium gray colors

On the Campus This Fall Slim Skirts Take First Place

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — On their return to the campus this fall, college girls will find themselves living in and with the slim silhouette to a far greater degree than they've ever done.

Those who've disguised figure problems with wide skirts will find that they're faced with a program of diet and exercise. Wide skirts will still be worn but not to the extent true in the past.

Keeping company with the slim silhouette will be better grooming. Somehow, slim lines call for straight stocking seams, shining hair and even hemlines. Foundation garments are more important and the pantie girdle is an absolute must.

Classroom skirts, Bermuda shorts and even dressy wool dresses are slim this fall. Blue jeans have vanished into the blue and in their place are slim Bermuda shorts in every conceivable fabric, in solid colors and plaids. In fact, the college wardrobe is built around slim skirts, cotton shirts, cashmere sweaters and Bermuda shorts.

The comes the basic wool dress, to be accessorized to suit the occasion, a suit or two, a simple wool coat and some short evening dresses. The gray flannel suit (an old standby) and the loden coat (new and incoming) show that college girls are loyal to old favorites but willing to try something new.

It is said that until the age of 12, the average youngster's shoe size changes every four to eight weeks. After twelve, the change varies from every 12 to 16 weeks.

Foundation Program Brings Several Changes in Schools

The new plan of apportionment of state aid to schools, generally known as the "foundation program", went into effect after receiving voter approval in a referendum election in Oct. 1955. Some changes have already taken place as a result of the new plan.

Although local districts which transport school pupils must still bear a large percentage of transportation costs, state aid has been somewhat liberalized for districts whose routes are long and not densely populated. Each transporting district in Pettis county eligible for state aid now receives an apportionment of 20 cents per pupil per day transported, as compared with the 15 cents formerly received.

Every district in the county which shares in state aid must levy at least $1 for teacher and incidental purposes. This is an increase in the levy for non-high school districts which formerly levied a 65 cent minimum to share in state aid. Depending on the school enrollment and the local district valuation, some schools are receiving considerably more state aid than they formerly did, while others will get considerably less due to low pupil enrollments. The state aid for districts which maintain only an eight-month term is proportionately reduced. This provision has resulted in one rural district, Anderson School No. 26, voting to have a nine-month term for the coming year, and other districts are considering a longer term.

One new feature of the state aid plan is the teacher incentive payment, by which state aid is increased for teachers having larger amounts of college hours. The State Department of Education is also encouraging better college preparation by raising college hour requirements for certificates and classification of schools. The minimum this year for all new teachers and for all teachers holding non-renewable certificates will be 64 hours, instead of 32 as formerly. Teachers having less than 64 hours, with renewable certificates, will be granted a reasonable time to bring their preparation up to the 64-hour minimum. College hour requirements for elementary teachers in high school districts will be higher than the 64-hour minimum, depending on the classification of the district. With greater college preparation and increased funds available, the State Department of Education hopes that the teacher salary level will be raised, so that a good supply of well-trained teachers can be maintained in Missouri.

Houstonia Schools Are Redecorated; Play Area Enlarged

Houstonia schools will open for the 1956-57 year on Sept. 3. The first session will only be a half-day for enrollment of both elementary and high school students.

Regular classes will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 4, starting at 8:45 a.m. and dismissing at 3:30 p.m. The hot lunch program will begin on Tuesday also.

Schools will open with little change in personnel this year, but during the summer months improvements have been made in buildings and facilities. New lights and bleachers have been installed on the baseball field and additional land has been purchased to enlarge the playground. Improvements to the buildings include redecoration in pastel shades, new tile floors and refinishing of the gymnasium floor.

Cole Camp Schools Open On August 27

Preparations are under way for the Cole Camp schools to open Monday, Aug. 27, with a full day's class work.

New furniture has been purchased for the grade school which will consist of small individual tables and chairs for rooms one and two. Movable desks, known as "Ten-Twenty" will be used in rooms three and four and in part of the high school. The tops of these desks may be tilted to ten and twenty degree angles for better positions for reading and writing. New typing tables and new chairs have been purchased for the typing room and for the study hall. Some of the furniture has already arrived and has been placed in the rooms. The balance is expected before school opens.

All floors have been re-conditioned and refinished in the old building and also in the gym. A new roof is being laid on the old building, by Sievers Construction Co. of Sedalia, who submitted the most favorable bid. They will remove the old bell tower.

In high school some new courses will be available including a course in English called publications, plane geometry, and physics.

The high school schedule has been prepared and individual student courses have been worked out in accordance with requests for subjects submitted by the high school students last spring.

High School Book Days will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Aug. 22-23-24. Each high school student should make plans to secure books on one of those days by coming in person, or by calling or writing the Supt.

Mrs. Hill would like for the first graders—those who will be enrolling for the first time—to come to her room on Friday morning at ten o'clock, Aug. 24, for pre-registration. It would be helpful, if parents would bring the child's birth certificate.

The school has been approved again for serving hot lunch and the milk program will be carried out the same as last year. The lunch will cost 25 cents and additional milk will be served at no extra cost to the pupil. Lunch will be served the first day.

A few changes may be made in bus routes which will be announced later.

The Senior class and the High School will enter floats at Cole Camp Fair which will be held Sept. 6, 7 and 8. Work has already begun and substantial progress has been made. Indications are that these floats will furnish some competition.

In accordance with the new school law, the Board of Education has employed Sterling B. Stage, Certified Public Accountant, Windsor, to audit the school accounts. Under the school law, all districts having six member boards, will be required to furnish a report by an auditor every biennium. The board felt that the audit would be more beneficial if done periodically over the two year period, so the report is now being prepared for the school year, 1955-56. The 1956-57 report will be made on a quarterly basis. At the end of the 1956-57 school year the above firm will consolidate all of the reports for the final report to be published and made to the State Department of Education.

High school teachers for the new term are John W. Ragland, superintendent; Robert Kullman, vocational agriculture; Ronald Beasley, social studies and coach; Viola Berry, music; Clarice H. Ragland, commerce; Ralph Berry, science; Pearl Traugot, English; and Mabel Brauer, home economics.

Elementary teachers are Lenore Harms, Pauline Dueber, Opal Carnes, and Zelphia Hill.

With the new emphasis on neatness of line and style, males going back-to-school are focusing more attention on ties.

Restrained patterns and subdued colors are subtle accents to the newer squared-off shape of ties. Traditional V point ties are more slender and the point is shallower.

Bow ties, which go so well with the narrow line of fashion, are sparked by gentle stripes and fastidious motifs.

Good Equipment Is Important Item To Sports-Minded

When there is a snap in the air, marking the back-to-school season, there is nothing a healthy youngster looks forward to more avidly than the snap of a football.

"The growth of the Midget Football leagues throughout the United States is truly amazing," comments expert George Dawson, vice-president of the A. G. Spalding & Bros., company of Chicopee, Mass.

Whether your son is a member of such a midget team or one who likes to play on the neighboring field with his friends, the gift of a football is something that will fit in well with the back-to-school season. Spalding, for example, has all the accessories for the game, including football helmets and shoulder pads, etc., which minimize the risk of injury.

"The most important thing for any athletic-minded youngster," points out Norman Van Brocklin, ace passer of the Los Angeles Rams, "is good equipment."

Supplementing the football season is basketball, which is viewed by over 100,000,000 Americans each year, and which is played in every hamlet and town. A basketball and a hoop which you can attach to the garage door or to a neighboring tree is a gift every youngster will appreciate.

NEW YORK —(NEA)— When a little girl goes back to school, she goes not only to classes but to the parties that her classmates give, to dancing class, to visit at the homes of small friends. She also goes to Sunday School.

Her wardrobe, therefore, must have some dressy clothes in it. Dressy, but not fussy. She'll keep her plaids and prints for school this year and set aside the silks and acetate blends for after-school wear.

She will wear velvet touches to school this year. And since her parents will put most of her wardrobe money in to school clothes, these loom as most important.

Plaids are not faddish this fall. Nor are they confined to a single pattern or color. The over-all plaids are many and varied, begin with the glen types, and spread into new color combinations. Big plaid color this year is brown, often combined with the freshness of pastels.

The sweater dress fashion is one loved by both big and little girls. This year, the bright red sweater (over, say, a black and white checked dress) is big fashion. It's also shown with a plaid that picks the red of the sweater.

The shirtmaker is another fashion that little girls can wear as well as their big sisters. For fall, it gets the shirt collar, big pockets and bracelet sleeves.

Shopping For Children's Clothes Requires Care

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

The shocking discovery that awaits most homemakers this month is how much the children have grown since last year.

Shopping lists for the children's back-to-school clothes lengthen as the little dears add inches and pounds.

And the woman who regards such shopping as a tedious expedition to be hurried through as rapidly as she can snatch up the needed garments is courting trouble.

In the long run, shopping as painstakingly for the children's clothing as she does for her own new fall ensemble pays off in greater satisfaction for everyone.

I've been examining my own shopping methods and reading up on various studies which will influence my approach this year.

Should the young grammar school students have a vote on what they'll be wearing? Definitely, say child development experts.

As most mothers will agree, children develop preferences in clothes at an early age. Encouraging them to help make selections is a part of their growing up. Mamma may know best but, within reasonable limits, it's advisable to go along with the youngster's strong preferences. (I also remind myself how hard it is to get a youngster to wear something she really dislikes.)

Whenever possible, the shopping foray goes more smoothly if you can take only one child at a time. Preliminary scouting by telephone or in person and a close watch on newspaper ads will help you decide when to schedule each trip.

It's time consuming and frustrating to be told by the saleswoman that the shipment of jackets in Junior's size isn't expected until next week.

Consider the use to which the garment will be put and the upkeep and care which will be required as well as the initial cost. With a bewildering array of fabrics in natural and man-made fibers, special-purpose fibers and finishes, it behooves us all to read any garment tags with concentration.

If, for example, the children will be walking or bicycling from school in the early winter dusk or if Junior has a newspaper route, you may have more than passing interest in the children's clothes woven with reflective yarn added to other fibers.

These yarns look the same as other fibers by daylight, but during dusk or dark they reflect motorists' headlights, making the child much more visible. Outerwear, knit sport shirts and socks with this feature can be spotted only by the identifying tags or stamps.

Instructions for the care of dresses or suits forecast how much time and cost their upkeep will require. In a limited wardrobe, the more quickly a garment can be restored to service the better.

Clothing which must be handwashed in water of a certain temperature, trimmings that must be removed or other special requirements are apt to take more of your time than if you choose clothes which can be added to the general laundry.

Drip-dry, man-made fibers and blends do cut ironing time, but for the best wrinkle-free results, dresses and shirts made from them must be removed from the machine before mechanical extraction of the water and this isn't always convenient.

Some crease-resistant finishes can take the whole laundry cycle in stride and others require special handling.

By all means take the time to try on clothes, especially those which will bear the brunt of everyday wear. Check the stress points across the shoulders, around the armholes and the buttoned or zippered closures.

Remember that a jacket that fits smoothly over light clothes may be too tight when a sweater is added.

Clothes that are too big are as uncomfortable as too-tight garments. Sleeves dangling over hands, collars open, pants too loose at the waist—all mean alterations. And look at the seams of dresses and shirts. Skimpy or ravelly seams are almost a cinch to wind up in the sewing basket for frequent repairs.

Smiling in the rain! Warm and dry, these youngsters go happily on their way in plastic film slickers with corduroy lined collar, shiny brass hardware and matching caps. Many colors.

Milk is one of the most important elements in a growing child's diet. And every school child needs at least a quart a day for good health.

For the youngster who won't drink milk, mother can see to it that he gets it by making puddings with milk, creaming soups with milk, preparing milk shakes at home, and by using milk in as many dishes in her menus as possible.

Onion strips, cooked in butter until they are pale golden, and coarsely grated cheddar cheese make a wonderful filling for turnovers. Use a rich flaky dough for the pastry.

Bankers Back The School Thrift Project

Thirft is necessary for our economic survival as a nation, according to bankers and educators in all parts of the country who are seeking a positive approach for teaching the fundamentals of sound money management.

Activities at the national level in this field center in the Committee on School Savings Banking of the Savings and Mortgage Division of the American Bankers Association.

Annually, this Committee sponsors the National School Savings Forum held each spring in New York City, at which educators and bankers discuss some of the practical aspects of thrift education in the schools.

During the succeeding year, the ideas are put into practice in various communities; and as a result of this activity, there are now 519 banks in as many communities serving over 10,000 schools, with more than 4-million pupil depositors.

These children now have accumulated balances in school savings of more than $140-million, representing an increase since 1947 of 219 banks, 6,500 schools, 2½-million depositors and $100-million in bank balances.

During the 1956 School Savings Forum, the point of view of educators was succinctly put by Gertrude A. Golden, a member of the Board of Education, Philadelphia, Pa., who said, "Thrift is something that must be learned." The art and habits of wise spending take time and experience.

"To train for thrift, a basic understanding of the term must be developed. A child can easily understand the value of systematic saving when it serves his purpose in the later purchase of some desired possession, such as a pair of skates or a bicycle or a Christmas present for his mother. It is from simple personal experiences that a child gradually develops broader concepts of thrift.

"There is an old saying that we learn to do by doing. Children must have opportunities to participate in the active meaningful process of money management."

"Our opportunity and our duty are clear," banker participants in the Forum agreed. "One of the top-priority jobs of the present and future for all bankers is to insure a continued and increased flow of savings into the banking system. School savings programs, probably more than any other single activity, can help to do this.

"School savings is a long term growth plan that will pay off for the banks in the future."

Student's Wardrobe Needs Two Coats

There's a real need in every schoolgirl's wardrobe for two coats — a dressy-look coat for weekends and real-cold weather wear—and a jaunty sportcoat for every other day-by-day occasions.

New details in the long coat story include such as highlights military styling: double-breasted, back-belted and multi-buttoned — in colorful fleeces.

Empire lines stress highplaced belts, unpressed back pleats, gently nipped-in waists and often with velvet trims. Tweeds, fleeces, nubs and boucles as well as soft suede cloths give elegance to these lines.

Leather Goes With All Kinds Of Clothes

The school set has discovered that one way to dress up with a minimum of fuss is to wear leather. It goes with everything in all kinds of weather and requires practically no upkeep. And, above all, it has that relaxed air.

The same leather jackets go to classes and football games. One popular style for both male and female of all ages is the car coat length which comes in many styles and leathers including suede, capeskin or lightly grained leather. It is usually tan or brown in color.

Another popular men's jacket is the sack coat or leisure coat in suede or grained leather with a 3-button front and patch pockets. It is found in red, blue and charcoal as well as in varying shades of the beige-to-brown family.

Some of the girls' jackets this year will boast an exclusive feature: zip-out interchangeable linings, which may include one of fur and another of plaid or striped jersey or alpaca.

Popular styles are the Norfolk, boxy, mandarin, cocoon and Eisenhower. The shirt-type leather jacket and leather pullovers are good with everything from tweed skirts to tapered lounging pants and Bermuda walking shorts.

And, fortunate is the miss who owns one or more of the new suits that combine leather with tweed, cashmere, or knit. They come in all colors from pastel to vivid hues and the fabric-trimmed and lined leather jacket may match or contrast with the leather-trimmed fabric skirt.

Whatever the style or color, the new leathers require next to nothing in upkeep. An eraser will work wonders on all leather and a wire brush on suede. Many suede leathers today are machine or hand washable. On smooth leathers use a sponge dipped in mild soapsuds and wrung nearly dry.

Little Girls Go Back to School in Big Girl Styles

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK —(NEA)— A four point fashion program for any little girl going back to school this fall (or starting for the first time) would include: the Empire line, the color brown, the provincial look and, of course, the caraco or little jacket.

Empire waistlines are fine for small girls because they offer fullness where it's needed most. The provincial look is expressed in jerkins, rickrack trim, dirndl skirts and puffed sleeves. Prints are used for provincial styles.

The caraco stops just above the waist on a small girl and allows full skirts all the needed fullness.

Designers are showing lots of brown in children's clothes, sometimes mixing it up with orange or beige or yellow. Brightened with white collars and touched up with braid trim, it has a fresh, new look.

We show two fashions for classroom beginners. Cotton dress in Black Watch (left) has Cranston dri-smooth finish for minimum ironing. Dress has Empire waistline and back opening to show off bloomers which are in contrasting color.

Empire-waisted cotton dress in muted stripe (right) is touched with white, has black bow and streamers at front.

Camp Fire Girls to Stress Citizenship, Homemaking

School bells soon will be ringing — classroom doors will open wide to mark another new and exciting season for Camp Fire Girls.

After a fun-packed summer of camping, hiking and cooking out-of-doors, Camp Fire Girls will begin the 1956-57 project which is keyed to the theme, "Believe in the Future."

Through this project girls will be helped to discover new goals and to develop skills and talents which will help them to become good citizens and homemakers.

Group activities with meetings after school and on Saturdays will be continued with the program covering all of Camp Fire's Seven Crafts — Home "Outdoors", "Creative Arts", Frontiers (of science) — Business", Sports and Games, and Citizenship.

In keeping with the year's theme, Camp Fire's three age groups — Blue Birds (seven to ten); Camp Fire Girls (ten to fifteen); and Horizon Club (senior high school) — will choose at least three goals which they will work toward.

By sharing group activitie with elderly friends, members will discover the past in contributions made by other generations — their way of life, songs, dances, handcrafts and cooking.

From the present, girls will select someone whom they admire and whose life interests them — their mother, father, teacher or other adult friend and find out more about their work and life. These discoveries about others will help the girls determine the kind of persons they would like to become in the future.

To help them "peek" into the future, girls will hold an imaginary "Camp Fire Reunion in 1976" in which they will share their aspirations and plans. In preparing for the "Reunion" they will collect information on schools and colleges, various types of jobs and sections of the country where they might live.

Camp Fire Girls know that they cannot "Believe in the Future" without serving others, and when school bells ring, Camp Fire Girls will make toys and dolls for hospitalized and needy children, visit shut-ins, help to beautify their communities, serve as hospital and civilian defense aides and baby-sit so that mothers may register and vote.

In short, the more than 4000,00 Camp Fire Girls from coast to coast whose motto is — "Give Service," will by serving others, will be also serving themselves by learning and growing into healthy, happy womanhood.

Since Camp Fire was founded in 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick and other leading educators, over 4,000,000 girls have found joy and inspiration in Camp Fire membership.

To extend Camp Fire's program to the growing number of girls who today seek the advantages of membership, many more adult volunteers are needed. Adults can show that they "Believe in the Future" by volunteering their services as leaders, sponsors and committee members.

Working with girls and helping them to develop into happy, useful citizens and hommeakers is a rewarding experience that no adult can afford to miss.

Sweater Still Holds Popularity for Fall

For countless years, the sweater has been the favorite garment of college men the country over, and its phenomenal popularity continues this fall. Although Continentally-inspired double-breasted vests and low-cut sleeveless sweaters are claiming attention, the long sleeved crew neck sweater remains at the head of the list.

Here again, the lighterweight woolens and other yarns predominate, with soft shetland types being most in demand. Bold colors are making a big play for popularity, mainly in bright reds, yellows and blues.

In V-neck sweaters, the neckline is accentuated with wide V-stripes which come to a point below the chestline of the sweater. In some instances, the stripes begin at the shoulder seams, without continuing round the back of the neck.

Another important item is the sweater shirt which has a collar of its own and is worn outside the pants. These sweaters come in solid colors, but are most sought after with a wide chest stripe and collar in contrasting shades.

ON HIT PARADE

Pile coatings from alpaca piles to synthetics in fur tones are worth watching. Because of their similarity to fur in look, feel, and color, pile coats are expected to gain widespread popularity.

New 'Ivy Look' May Make identification Of Students Difficult

As the "Ivy Look" captures the fancies of both sexes going back to school this fall — how are you going to tell the girls from the boys?

The "boy look" which gained such impetus in gals' leisure fashions in the summertime now appears ready to sweep the girls' dress circles this fall.

Pity the poor near-sighted teacher when she sees all her students decked out in man-tailored shirts, blazer jackets, bermuda shorts, sportscar coats, knee-socks, and often in many cases — girls wearing 'boy-look' haircuts.

Yes, boy caps, boy-look coats and man-tailored storm coats are but a few of the borrowed-from-the-boys notes for fashionwise girls — school term '56!

College girls will be flat on their heels this Fall, as always. But the quality and variety of flat-heeled shoes have reached a new high.

Cellophane Tape Is Handy Item to Put In School Accessories

Among the items that should be included in every school bag is a roll of cellophane self-sticking tape.

One of its first uses — is to cover textbooks. The paper covers can be reinforced around the edges with tape for extra strength and longer wear, and the covers can be attached to the books with short lengths of tape.

When important school papers or book pages become torn, a strip of cellophane tape can repair the tear without impairing its readability.

Cellophane tape, also can help mothers who pack the lunches to be carried to school. Sandwiches wrapped in wax paper and sealed with cellophane tape will remain fresher for a longer period.

Have crisp bread sticks on hand for that spaghetti-and-salad supper.

Calico Prints Give 'Peasant' Look

As endearing as an old fairy tale is the 'peasant' look of girls' fashions!

Calico prints give a look of rural Americana to long-sleeved dresses . . . tucked modesty highlights dark background floral prints . . . Tyrolean prints spark quilted jumpers and skirts . . . laced-fronts on corduroy or velveteen vests and bodice fronts give a "Heidi" look to separates.

Horizontal bands of quaint cross-stitched embroidery march across the bodice and hems of dirndl-skirted fashions, and very puffed sleeves from short to long — help typify the very pleasant, little 'peasant' look.

Your child's feet deserve the finest shoes you can buy . . . Pro-tek-tiv. We now have our new fall stock in a wonderful selection of styles for girls and boys. Widths from A to EE. We would suggest that you bring your child in soon and avoid the last minute pre-school rush.

SEEING WHERE THEY'VE BEEN—Rumbleseats strapped to their fathers' backs make sure there are no slip-ups when the tots and papas arrive in New York aboard the liner Stockholm. Martti Kyamalainen, left, carries his 11-month-old daughter, Meija, while Arvo Lahti provides the ride for daughter Seija, one year. The quartet is bound for new homes in Canada.

PIG WHO CAME TO DINNER—A 100-pound pig has no qualms about showing up for chow when a cow feeds her calf in Bassett, Va. Somewhere along the line, the little runt got confused and every time the cow comes on the scene, the free-loading pig is right on hand. The farmer has tried to discourage the little thief, but both cow and calf have resigned themselves to his presence.

Numerous Visitors At Otterville

By Miss Cora Cordry

OTTERVILLE — Dinner guests Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Straten were Miss Carrie Anna Sanders and Miss Alta Lohman, Artesia, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Wood, Jacksonville, Fla., arrived Thursday for a visit with his mother, Mrs. H. A. Wood and Geneva.

Sedalians Are Subject Of Magazines

The Independent Woman, monthly magazine of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., is overflowing this month, in its August issue, with articles and pictures on Sedalians.

On the cover is a picture of Miss Hazel Palmer and on the first page an article about the cover picture:

"Miss Hazel Palmer, the 17th president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, is a practicing attorney in Sedalia, Missouri, in the law firm of Palmer and Palmer, a father-daughter combination.

"Miss Palmer's work with this federation since 1935 has been characterized by fairness to everyone and by a dedicated spirit of service.

"As the new president she assures an enlightened, broad, practical, yet idealistic leadership, guiding the way for new heights of achievement for our National Federation."

On Page 25 is another picture of Hazel and a copy of her acceptance speech. On page 26 is an article about her with the heading: "Presenting the New National President."

Miss Palmer appears in several other pictures throughout the magazine, one with the newly elected officers at the biennial convention; one at the head table at the Florida Federation dinner for the board; and one with Governor Frank G. Clement of Tennessee, who gave the keynote address at the convention banquet.

In addition to the stories and pictures of Hazel there was also a picture of Miss Rose Leibbrand who has taken over the duties of executive director for the National Federation and an article about her.

A picture of Miss Palmer also appears in the Missouri Business Woman, the state BPWC paper along with a message by Beulah Kirksey, Springfield, president of the Missouri Business and Professional Women's Club, who told of the Miami Beach, Fla., convention and of the friendliness and cooperation that prevailed.

Of Hazel Palmer she said:

"We were proud of Hazel in Miami. Whenever she took the floor, she exemplified such ability and maintained such dignity and poise as could not be excelled. On every hand we heard praise and admiration for her outstanding ability. It was a thrilling climax to the Biennial to see Hazel installed as National President of our great Federation."

About Town

R. A. Mosby, 715 South Engineer, left Thursday morning for Detroit, Mich., to visit his son, Walter and wife and his grandson, D. D. Austin and wife and other friends. He will return around Aug. 23 with Gertrude and Patty Elins who will meet him there on their way home from California where they visited this summer.

Miss Hazel Palmer left Thursday morning for Chicago where, as the president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, she will attend the Democrat National Convention, to be held Aug. 13, and explain before the pre-convention platform committee the equal rights amendment and legislation for equal pay for equal work regardless of sex.

A week later she will go to San Francisco to the Republican National Convention which will be held Aug. 20, where she will appear before the pre-committee platform committee of that party. At both conventions she will recommend that the equal rights planks be included in the platform of both parties.

Miss Palmer has been invited to many social functions of both parties in addition to her invitation to appear before the platform committees.

Wedding Shower After Meeting Held by WSCS

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the California Methodist Church held its regular monthly meeting at the church Monday evening.

The Quiet Hour, which precedes the regular meeting, was held at 7:30 p.m. with Mrs. Neil Newton as leader.

Mrs. H. W. Crum was the program leader for the general meeting. The program topic was "Goals and Accomplishments of the WSCS," for the past five years. Mrs. George Wagner and Mrs. Neil Newton, past presidents, presented a skit which presented these accomplishments.

Mrs. Gail Butts was the devotional leader for the meeting. Mrs. A. B. York, president, presided during the business session. Forty members and two visitors, Miss Merrilyn Connelley and Mrs. Kenneth Knogge, were present.

Reports were given by the various officers and chairmen.

After the business meeting all assembled in the church dining room for the social hour. Miss Merrilyn Connelley was honored with a miscellaneous wedding shower. The serving table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a small lace umbrella under which were painted daisies arranged with something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue. The shower arrangements and games were in charge of Mrs. N. D. Kay.

The hostesses, Mrs. Pete Alexander, Miss Virginia Meyer, Miss Irene Meyer and Mrs. Dolorise Pace served refreshments.

TV Will Not Allow Kissing Like Movies

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Why hasn't television developed any great lovers like the Valentins, the John Gilberts, the Frank Sinatras and the Bill Holdens of the movies?

The answer is simple. TV just won't let you kiss the way the movies do.

As one CBS executive summed it:

"You just can't get torrid in the living room even in this air conditioned age."

John Cassevetes, a veteran of many TV kissing scenes, and Terry Moore, who has been kissed often and long in the movies, found this out the past few days in rehearsing for the television show, "Climax."

"I never kissed a girl in the movies," commented Cassevetes, "but I'm looking forward to it."

The young Broadway actor made only one movie, "Crime in the Streets," wherein he played a juvenile delinquent. Miss Moore has done little television. Last Thursday night the two appeared in "The Right to Kill," adapted from Dostoyevsky's classic "Crime and Punishment."

It was Cassevetes' job, during rehearsals, to coach Miss Moore in the kissing scenes, to slow down her too torrid movie approach.

For instance, Terry found that TV will stand for no wide parting of the lips nor scenes where she is pulled too close to the man.

She suggtsted that one scene be best played by Cassavetes kissing the back of her ear. That was taboo.

Instead Cassevetes suggested the scene be played with Terry sitting down, his head in her lap and kissing her hand instead of her ear.

She agreed happily.

"My husband will be watching this show," she laughed. She was reecntly wed to Eugene McGrath, young Panama businessman.

She said that almost every love scene she played in the movie version of "Come Back, Little Sheba"—a portrayal that won her an Academy Award nomination—would be red penciled on television.

Grace Kelly and William Holden in a scene from "The Bridges at TOKO-RI". This stirring drama, filmed in technicolor, was featured in Life Magazine. Frederic March and Mickey Rooney also have starring roles in the picture. The companion feature "Unchained" that caused such a sensation in Reader's Digest, stars Elroy (crazy legs) Hirsch. Both features shown Tonight & Monday at the 50 Drive-In Theatre.

Esther Williams Loses Bathing Suit in Pool

LONDON (AP) —American swimming star Esther Williams today ordered a new and tighter fitting bathing suit because the one she was wearing slipped off.

Performing her act at nearby Wembley Pool Miss Williams donned a special rhinestone bathing suit for her first entrance last night. Earlier in the day the shoulder strap had been re-lined to prevent it rubbing her neck. But no allowance was made for stretch.

Esther dived in, felt the strap pop and then to her horror, felt the suit slip off. She went to the bottom of the pool, hitched it up and tied it on with a necklace, while other performers cavorted above to divert attention.

Mt. Baldy Becomes Shrine for Bald-Heads

CLAREMONT, Calif. (AP) — Mt. Baldy, a 10,000-foot peak that gets its name from its barren crown, is to become a shrine for the barren-crowned members of the Society of Bald Eagles.

The society, composed of bald-headed brothers of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, has announced a pilgrimage to be made to the mountain Sunday to place a plaque in one of the lodges.

Art Ehremann of Milwaukee, Wis., in his official capacity as Supreme Exalted Skinhead, says he will represent the national organization.

Ordinary clothesline rope can be practically and decoratively useful around the home.

Try These Tricks With Common Clothesline Rope

By MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

Whatever you do, don't lose sleep over it. But consider this: if automatic clothes dryers eventually take the place of the good, old-fashioned clothesline, what'll you use for rope in emergencies?

Clothesline is the only kind of rope kept in abundant supply around the average house .Being a handy substitute for hemp, it's called upon to perform countless odd jobs outside the line of nominal duty.

How many times have you toted a load of do-it-yourself stuff home from the lumber yard and snitched the missus' clothesline to tie it down on top of the car?

When Junior needs a tow rope for his sled, or a lasso for imaginary cowpoking, you go after the clothesline with a knife.

The outdoorsman who fails to take along a length of clothesline on a camping trip is either forgetful or shortsighted.

Think about it and you should recall any number of ways clothesline rope has been useful to you —exclusive of washdays. Puritan Cordage Mills of Louisville, Ky., did (thought about it, that is) and came up with some interestingly out-of-the-ordinary uses for their products.

For instance t,hey suggest using clothesline to strengthen a corrugated box for storing and carrying small items. Here's how:

Pencil a rectangular figure on one side of the box, and a similar rectangular on the opposite side. Punch holes through the cardboard at corners of the rectangles. Run clothesline rope into the box through the upper holes, out through the lower holes and across the underside of the box. Tie the ends together.

Lacing a basement or recreation room stairway with nylon cord or clothesline is a practical and decorative treatment. Practical because it can protect children from dangerous falls; decorative because of the patterns and colors you can achieve. The lacing can be dyed with conventional fabric dyes.

One method is to run the cord from a screw eye in the center of the stair tread, upward through another screw eye in the bottom of the stair railing, back down to the next higher tread, and so on up the stairs.

Another way is to lace the rope from floor to ceiling beside the stairway, creating the effect of a divider. Here, you can use a straight up-and-down pattern, V pattern, or X pattern — again threading the line through screw eyes.

In the workshop, clothesline is as handy as anywhere, if not handier. Try these tricks sometime:

When glueing split table or chair legs together ,bind the joint tightly with cord and leave it bound until the glue has set firmly. The rope exerts uniform pressure on the break.

To protect a surface when pulling nails wrap clothesline around the head of a claw hammer. Crisscross it over the head and tie it.

Paint brushes have a high mortality rate when used to apply glue. You can make an inexpensive but expendable glue applicator by running a short length of clothesline through a metal or rubber tube. Fray the protruding end and hold it in place with a nail driven through tube and cord. When glue hardens on the frayed end, remove the nail, pull more cord through.

Finally, here's a picnic tip: soak short lengths of cord in melted paraffine. Use them as fire starters for damp firewood.

Louis Shoulders Goes Job Hunting Nowadays

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Louis Shoulders is job hunting these days.

The former police lieutenant, a principal figure in the Greenlease ransom inquiry, was released from the Springfield, Mo., Medical Center for federal prisoners June 16 after serving a three-year term for perjury.

He was a heart patient at the time of his release but now says he is able to do "light work."

Shoulders, convicted of lying about his handling of two ransom-filled suitcases, said he took a job selling furniture for a downtown firm "but I really would like to find something that would interest me more."

Shoulders and his partner arrested Carl Austin Hall and Mrs. Bonnie Brown Heady, later executtd for the kidnap-slaying of 6-year-old Bobby Greenlease of Kansas City. Only about half the $600,000 ransom paid the kidnapers was recovered.

"I can't keep living off of June's salary," Shoulders said yesterday, referring to his wife. "It isn't enough for both of us. And besides, a man's got to get out and work."

Marinate thinly sliced cucumbers and onion rings in olive oil, vinegar, sugar to taste and salt and pepper. Keep in a covered container in the refrigerator and serve with meat loaf, hamburger and steaks.

Visitors At Florence Over The Weekend

By Mrs. Paul E. Duvel

FLORENCE — A surprise dinner was given Sunday for Mrs. Joe Kaenbley at her home. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Wilson and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Mabbott and family of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duvel and family and Mrs. Anna Bramble. Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Mabbott brought basket dinner for all.

Mr. and Mrs. K. K. Rumans, Sedalia, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Oehrke and L.R

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duvel Saturday night were Mr. and Mrs. Ted Homan and Mrs. K. K. Rumans, Sedalia, Mrs. Leo Oehrke and Mrs. Harry Bremer.

Mrs. Helen Long, Kansas City, spent the weekend with her mother Mrs. Christene Koegler.

B. E. Rogers, of Independence, spent Monday at his farm near Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and family, Bunceton, visited Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klein.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wray drove to Kansas City, Sunday to attend a ball game of the K. C. A's.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Harden, of Kansas City, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Connor and family and Kenneth Connor of Creve Coeur, Ill., spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Olie Hardin.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Simon and family, Sedalia, spent the weekend with relatives in Florence.

Robert Bremer, of Kansas, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bremer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Burkhalter and daughter, Blue Springs, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Houchen.

Mr. and Mrs. George Petty, of Versailles, accompanied Calvin Self to the Cole County Fair at Jefferson City Friday night Aug. 3 where Mr. Self entered two dogs in the dog show. Both dogs were first place winners.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Mertgen, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hampy and Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Self attended the annual bench show at Clinton, Aug. 5. About Town

Lt. Com. L. A. Pharris, Jr., U.S. Coast Guard, Mrs. Pharris and two children, of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., are visiting for ten days with Commander Pharris' parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Pharris, 1005 South Missouri.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Embry and daughters, Denver, Colo., have returned to Denver after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Embry, 800 East Fifth, and other relatives and friends at Smithton, Otterville, Warsaw and Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Embry and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Embry and family, Tipton, were guests Tuesday evening.

Miss Johanna Propp of Germany, stopped for a visit over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Callis, Route 5, en route from Virginia to San Diego, Calif.

Miss Propp, who is about 23 years old, has been in the United States on a Fullbright scholarship. She was serving as program director at Camp Ruthers, Forest, Va., and while there met Mrs. Jean Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Callis. Jean, is welfare director of Norfolk Girls Camp and was also at Camp Ruthers where she was program leader. When Johanna told her of her plans to go back to Germany but she wanted to see more of this country first going on to California Jean told her to stop in Sedalia and break the journey with a visit with her parents.

That sounded good to Johanna and that is what she did. She had been through a lot of hardships during the war when her father was killed, and her mother and the rest of the family lived on bread and water. She told Mr. and Mrs. Callis she was lucky to be alive.

She studied one year in England before coming here.

TELEGRAM FOR . . .—If a motorist's car isn't equipped with a telephone, the next best thing is this ingenious method being installed along French highways. Names of autoists who have telegrams sent to them are posted on billboards located at strategic points along major highways. A person spotting his name on the panel can then proceed to the nearest station where his message is waiting for him.

Melita Day Nursery Has Two New Fans

Melita Day Nursery has two additional gifts, these from the board. The gifts are fans, one a large fan on wheels that can be used in the kitchen while the women are getting lunch for the children and then moved into the dining room while the children are eating. The other fan is for the desk of Mrs. Lucy Rabourn, superintendent.

Mrs. Rabourn expressed her thanks to George H. Trader, president, Mrs. D. P. Dyer, house committee and other members of the board for the fans. Mrs. Dyer saw the need for the fans when at the nursery and reported the need to the board. The board acted promptly and took the two fans to the nursery Tuesday.

Warning

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—The Montana Highway Patrol has adopted a new uniform shoulder emblem—the patrol star with the state seal above the numbers 3-7-77.

The numbers are a symbol of the Vigilantes who ushered law and order into a troubled and unsettled Montana territory.

The most accepted explanation of the numbers is they stood as a warning for undesirable citizens to prepare to occupy a grave 3 feet wide, 7 feet long and 77
